Sees Chance Of U.S. Troop Pullout

HHH Says He, Nixon Help Bid For Negotiated Peace

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey says chances for a negotiated Vietnam peace have been helped by his and Richard M. Nixon's nomination because the North Vietnamese now know they will have little chance of winning "unusual concessions" from the next president.

"Neither of us gives any more than they are able to get in the Paris negotiations," Humphrey said Monday night aboard his campaign plane in a news conference.

It was called to clarify remarks he made earlier in Philadelphia and Denver on the possibility of U.S. troop withdrawals and on his stand on the bombing of North Vietnam.

Dog Humphrey's Trail

The Vietnam issue—and vocal antiwar demonstrators—dogged Humphrey's trail in the 15-hour, coast-to-coast opener of his presidential campaign.

In Philadelphia, Denver and Los Angeles, sparse crowds offering light applause were drowned out by placard-waving, chanting demonstrators.

"We want the Humphrey of yesterday, not the HHH of today," read one sign in Denver and shouts of "Hell no, we won't go" and the Nazi "Sieg Heil" dominated the greeting as a union band attempted to whip up enthusiasm.

Less than 200 persons met Humphrey in Los Angeles. Of them, about 50 were demonstrators. Many of the youths were supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, defeated Democratic presidential candidate and they waved signs reading "remember Chicago."

Humphrey began to shake hands with supporters but one youth leaped a fence as the vice president approached him. The youth was quickly hustled away by Secret Service agents.

HHH Driven By Police

Humphrey was then driven to his hotel by police. He made no public statements during his arrival at the airport or hotel.

Through it all, Humphrey appeared cheerful.

The vice president tapes a television interview and speaks to aerospace workers in nearby Redondo Beach today before heading on to Houston.

The news conference on the plane resulted in some elaboration of Humphrey's statement that "we could start to remove some of the American forces (from Vietnam) in early 1969 or late 1968."

He revised an earlier statement that he "would have had no trouble in accepting" a minority Vietnam plank at the Democratic National Convention calling for an unconditional bombing halt over North Vietnam.

The prediction of troop withdrawals, he said, was based on briefings from Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army chief of staff.

"I don't know if there will be large numbers," he said, adding that both predicted "some modest—I didn't say modest—troop withdrawals."

Humphrey reaffirmed his stand against a bombing halt, saying "I cannot support a unilateral bombing halt."

He said he favors "a cessation of the bombing when there is some restraint shown," the position taken by President Johnson.

In Denver, Humphrey said in response to a question about the minority Vietnam plank, that, "the minority plan was so mildly different from the majority plank, I would have had no problem in accepting it whatsoever."

Humphrey was asked about his Philadelphia statement that substantive as oposed to procedural, Vietnam peace talks "may very well start before I become president."

He said he thinks this will happen but declined to give any reason. In response to another question, he said, "I think that the nomination of Mr. Nixon and myself and the two platforms are helpful" in the search for peace because they support the Johnson administration stand.

First Test Since Czech Invasion

Senate Unit Action Urged On Pact To Ban A-Spread

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in the first real testing of congressional winds since the Soviet Union invaded Czechoslovakia, was urged today to take quick action on a treaty aimed at curbing the spread of nuclear weapons.

The plea was made by committee member Albert Gore, D-Tenn., in a statement prepared for a committee meeting.

It marked the first attempt to dislodge the nuclear nonproliferation treaty from the committee since Congress reconvened last week following a month recess.

President Johnson asked for swift action when he submitted the treaty to the Senate July 9. He has continued to press for approval despite a marked lessening of congressional support since the Czech invasion and other Russian troop moves in East Europe.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has raised the possibility the treaty might be put over until next year.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk renewed the administration plea before the committee Monday. He said U.S. action could have a major impact on what the remaining countries decide about signing the treaty.

Nearly 80 nations—including this country and the Soviet Union—have signed it but a two-thirds vote of approval in the Senate is needed before U.S. agreement becomes final.

The treaty would pledge nuclear nations signing it not to provide nuclear weapons—or the know-how to make them—to countries that do not now have them. Provision is made for sharing information on peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Gore said the United States and Russia shared a common interest: "We and they, as the strongest nations of the world, have the most to lose from a nuclear exchange."

Gore said that at no time had he backed the agreement "on any mistaken belief that Soviet adherence to the treaty indicated Soviet Communism had abandoned its aggressive designs."

Job Security Plan Bid Set For Teachers

NEW YORK (AP) — The Board of Education says it will offer a plan for job security to the teachers' union in an effort to end the day-old strike which virtually paralyzed the 1.1 million-pupil public school system.

Schools Supt. Bernard E. Donovan said Monday night the board had drawn up "a firm offer if agreement" on the security issue—central to the dispute—but did not elaborate. A meeting was set with the union today.

Earlier the city obtained a court order restraining the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers from continuing the walkout pending a court hearisg but union president Albert Shanker said the strike would continue.

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — The great puffball mushroom war continues in Colorado. It started last week with the discovery of a mushroom weighing 7½ pounds.

Then as new troops moved into the field, mushrooms weighing 8½, 9½ and even 11 pounds were found.

The current record, however, is held by Jerry Franz, 34, of Pueblo, who discovered a 14¾ pound puffball in Pueblo Mountain Park over the weekend.

At the market rate of nearly 80 cents a pound, the giant mushroom is valued at $13.40.

Cernik In Moscow

Russia Agrees To Give Czechs Economic Help

Natural Gas Put On List For Delivery

Agreement Signed By Czech Premier, Kosygin Of Soviet

PRAGUE (AP) — Premier Oldrich Cernik flew to Moscow today and signed an agreement on the delivery of natural gas to Czechoslovakia and a protocol "on other economic issues," the news agency CTK reported.

The agreement was signed by Cernik and Soviet Premier Alexis N. Kosygin, the agency added.

There was no detail on the economic protocol but CTK said the Russians agreed to delivery of natural gas to Czechoslovakia "for many years" and to "cooperation in the construction of a gas pipeline on Soviet territory."

As Results Of Invasion

Cernik was believed to have gone to Moscow to seek help to offset the economic setback resulting from the Soviet bloc invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Cernik was accompanied by two economic experts, Deputy Premier Frantisek Hamouz and Foreign Trade Minister Vaclav Vales. Prague Radio said the three men went for economic talks

That economic nature of the talks was underlined by the makeup of the Soviet delegation at the first session today in the Kremlin. Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the Soviet government was represented by Premier Alexei Kosygin, Deputy Premier Nikolai Baibakov, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, First Deputy Foreign Trade Minister Mikhail Kuzmin and a mamber of the state planning committee, Nikolai Inozemtsev.

The Czechoslovaks for some time have sought a big loan from the Soviet Union, and the Russians have also half promised compensation for all damages caused by the invasion.

The Czechoslovak Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo said Monday that the "arrival of foreign troops paralyzed production in heavy industry." It estimated production losses during the first week of the occupation at more than $227 million.

Didn't Meet Obligation

Rude Pravo complained that the Soviet Union and some of its hard-line allies did not meet their obligation to supply certain raw materials to Czechoslovakia

Meanwhile Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov returned to Prague after a visit to Bratislava, the capital of Slovakia. A report that his talks with Slovak Communist party chief Gustav Husak has been "cordial" raised the prospect that Moscow has bigger things in mind for Husak

The report by the official news agency CTK gave no details, but the term "cordial" indicated Kuznetsov and Husak found common ground.

14 Are Held In Gun Battle Fatal To Two

Face Grand Jury After Labor Day Interracial Fight

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — Fourteen men have been ordered held on charges of murder in an interracial gun battle Labor Day during which one white man and one Negro were killed.

The defendants, eight whites and six Negroes, appeared Monday at an examining trial before Madison County Judge Robert Turley in this small eastern Kentucky community.

Turley ordered the men held in Madison County jail and to appear Oct. 23 before a county grand jury.

The examining trial, to determine whether there are reasonable grounds to hold persons for grand jury action, was held Monday in two successive sessions. The first was for the white defendants, the other for the Negro men.

Most of the white men say they are members of the National States' Rights party, an extreme rightwing group that says its goal is a white Christian America without Jews or Negroes.

The Negro defendants are residents of Berea, a community near Richmond. The shooting took place there in a vacant lot.

The white defendants are from Ohio, Georgia and Kentucky.

Parking Ban Ordered On North Side Stretch

Police Chief A. J. Radeschi ordered a parking ban, effective Monday night, on a short stretch of a North Side street where a serious parking problem originated yesterday with the opening of the new school complex on nearby Maine Blvd.

The ban affects the south side of McKinnon Ave. between Anderson Blvd. and Jennings Ave. Many students parked their cars in the stretch Monday. As a result, the traffic lane was compressed to the point that two cars could pass only with difficulty and it would have been impossible for a fire truck or other heavy vehicle to pass an auto, the chief said.

The chief asked students to park in other, less congested areas. He said the ban was ordered "for the general welfare and safety of the area, particularly from the standpoint of fire protection."

Marines Lose 5 Below DMZ

U.S. Troops Kill 34 In 2 Clashes

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines killed 34 North Vietnamese troops in two clashes Monday just below the demilitarized zone and uncovered a large cache of ammunition and supplies.

Five Marines were killed and 23 wounded in the two battles within two miles of each other just north of the Marine outpost known as the Rock Pile, U.S. headquarters reported.

In a sweep through a bunker complex six miles west-southwest of the Rock Pile, the Marines uncovered more than 500 mortar and rocket rounds, 2,200 pounds of rice, medical supplies and cloth of Soviet, Czechoslovak and French origin, apparently for uniforms.

The flareup of fighting around the Rock Pile was the only significant fighting reported.

Troops of the U.S. 196th Light Infantry Brigade, operating 150 miles farther south below Da Nang, found another weapons cache that included 37 carbines and rifles, 10 rocket grenade launchers, seven machine guns and nine flame throwers.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese shelling killed one American and nine Vietnamese and wounded 24 Vietnamese in five attacks from the northern provinces to the Mekong Delta.

The American serviceman was killed in Kontum, in the central highlands, when 17 rounds of 100-pound Russian rockets landed around the airfield, a government military headquarters and a housing area. Another target was My Tho, the chief city in the delta, where four civilians were killed and 18 wounded.

Terrorists attacked in Saigon for the 10th time since Friday. Three men in their early 20s invaded a Chinese high school shortly after noon and shot four teachers talking in a corridor. One of the teachers, Ky Hung Lam, 49, was killed. The terrorists escaped.

In the air war, U.S. pilots flew 116 missions against North Vietnam's southern panhandle Monday.

"The southward flow of men and supplies continued to be the prime targets as returning crews reported destroying or damaging 60 supply craft, 22 trucks, 11 weapons positions and 29 supply storage areas," U.S. headquarters said.

Hancock Group's Action Approved

Chester Council To Help Spur Area's Development

Chester Council Monday night approved an "immediate action" program suggested by the Northern Hancock County Development Organization to assure the continuation of long-range plans for bridge and highway construction and the economic development of the area.

The development group's proposal, read during the meeting, contains the following pertinent points:

1.—That the state of Pennsylvania extend U.S. Route 30, as an improved four - lane highway, from Imperial to the approximate location of Route 30 at the West Virginia line.

2.—That the state of West Virginia continue the four - lane highway from the West Virginia-Pennsylvania state line to the Ohio River, with a planned bypass between Chester and Newell, and thereby construct a four-lane bridge where Route 30 ends at the river's edge, on across the river to connect with the four-lane Ohio Route 11 in East Liverpool that will continue on to Ashtabula.

3.—That the state of West Virginia construct modern approach and exit facilities for Chester and Newell use of the four-lane highway (Route 30 bypassing Chester and Newell) and bridge.

4.—That the state of Ohio coordinate the approach and exit facilities on the Ohio side of the new West Virginia - Ohio bridge and that these facilities be built by the state of Ohio.

5.—That the state of Ohio and the city of East Liverpool formulate and effectively plan to construct as soon as possible a four-lane extension of Route 11, from its present ending point on W.

Nixon Shapes Strategy For Southern Bid

Eyes Negro Votes While Slashing At Aid For Wallace

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's Southern strategy calls for him to try to win Negro votes while cutting down support for George C. Wallace.

"We have to try and get our share of the black vote while minimizing Wallace's," said an adviser to the Republican presidential candidate.

Nixon's strategists talked of the South as the former vice president prepared to leave Wednesday on another coast-to-coast trip that will take him into North Carolina, Louisiana, the Midwest and California.

Nixon scheduled a private meeting today with his business advisory group before having dinner with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who opposed him for the presidential nomination, but who now supports him.

They meet at the governor's Pocantico Hills estate. Afterward, Nixon will speak to a rally in suburban White Plains, N.Y.

Nixon's strategists say that Wallace, the American Independent party candidate, will attract votes in Southern areas that supported Republican Barry Goldwater for president in 1964.

As evidence of how important Nixon aides consider the Wallace vote, one adviser said: "In every Southern district, the combined Nixon vote and Wallace vote is going to be over half" of the votes cast.

The Nixon camp views North Carolina, one of the states on this week's tour, with optimism.

The County Election Board said it expects to complete the tabulation quickly tonight on returns from the Beaver Local School District, which is voting in a special election today on a $485,000 bond issue for school additions and other improvements.

Returns from the 18 polling places may be complete between 7 and 7:30. The voting began at 6:30 this morning and will end at 6:30 tonight. A comparatively light turnout is expected.

Tonight's tabulation will be complete, but unofficial. The official canvass of returns will be made Wednesday.

The flareup of fighting around the Rock Pile was the only significant fighting reported.

Troops of the U.S. 196th Light Infantry Brigade, operating 150 miles farther south below Da Nang, found another weapons cache that included 37 carbines and rifles, 10 rocket grenade launchers, seven machine guns and nine flame throwers.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese shelling killed one American and nine Vietnamese and wounded 24 Vietnamese in five attacks from the northern provinces to the Mekong Delta.

The American serviceman was killed in Kontum, in the central highlands, when 17 rounds of 100-pound Russian rockets landed around the airfield, a government military headquarters and a housing area. Another target was My Tho, the chief city in the delta, where four civilians were killed and 18 wounded.

Terrorists attacked in Saigon for the 10th time since Friday. Three men in their early 20s invaded a Chinese high school shortly after noon and shot four teachers talking in a corridor. One of the teachers, Ky Hung Lam, 49, was killed. The terrorists escaped.

In the air war, U.S. pilots flew 116 missions against North Vietnam's southern panhandle Monday.

"The southward flow of men and supplies continued to be the prime targets as returning crews reported destroying or damaging 60 supply craft, 22 trucks, 11 weapons positions and 29 supply storage areas," U.S. headquarters said.

Hancock Group's Action Approved

Chester Council To Help Spur Area's Development

Chester Council Monday night approved an "immediate action" program suggested by the Northern Hancock County Development Organization to assure the continuation of long-range plans for bridge and highway construction and the economic development of the area.

The development group's proposal, read during the meeting, contains the following pertinent points:

1.—That the state of Pennsylvania extend U.S. Route 30, as an improved four - lane highway, from Imperial to the approximate location of Route 30 at the West Virginia line.

2.—That the state of West Virginia continue the four - lane highway from the West Virginia-Pennsylvania state line to the Ohio River, with a planned bypass between Chester and Newell, and thereby construct a four-lane bridge where Route 30 ends at the river's edge, on across the river to connect with the four-lane Ohio Route 11 in East Liverpool that will continue on to Ashtabula.

3.—That the state of West Virginia construct modern approach and exit facilities for Chester and Newell use of the four-lane highway (Route 30 bypassing Chester and Newell) and bridge.

4.—That the state of Ohio coordinate the approach and exit facilities on the Ohio side of the new West Virginia - Ohio bridge and that these facilities be built by the state of Ohio.

5.—That the state of Ohio and the city of East Liverpool formulate and effectively plan to construct as soon as possible a four-lane extension of Route 11, from its present ending point on W.

Nixon Shapes Strategy For Southern Bid

Eyes Negro Votes While Slashing At Aid For Wallace

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's Southern strategy calls for him to try to win Negro votes while cutting down support for George C. Wallace.

"We have to try and get our share of the black vote while minimizing Wallace's," said an adviser to the Republican presidential candidate.

Nixon's strategists talked of the South as the former vice president prepared to leave Wednesday on another coast-to-coast trip that will take him into North Carolina, Louisiana, the Midwest and California.

Nixon scheduled a private meeting today with his business advisory group before having dinner with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who opposed him for the presidential nomination, but who now supports him.

They meet at the governor's Pocantico Hills estate. Afterward, Nixon will speak to a rally in suburban White Plains, N.Y.

Nixon's strategists say that Wallace, the American Independent party candidate, will attract votes in Southern areas that supported Republican Barry Goldwater for president in 1964.

As evidence of how important Nixon aides consider the Wallace vote, one adviser said: "In every Southern district, the combined Nixon vote and Wallace vote is going to be over half" of the votes cast.

The Nixon camp views North Carolina, one of the states on this week's tour, with optimism.

Quick Tabulation Due On Beaver Local Vote

The County Election Board said it expects to complete the tabulation quickly tonight on returns from the Beaver Local School District, which is voting in a special election today on a $485,000 bond issue for school additions and other improvements.

Returns from the 18 polling places may be complete between 7 and 7:30. The voting began at 6:30 this morning and will end at 6:30 tonight. A comparatively light turnout is expected.

Tonight's tabulation will be complete, but unofficial. The official canvass of returns will be made Wednesday.

Public Hearings Planned On 3 Zoning Change Bids

The City Planning Commission Monday set Oct. 28 as the tentative date for public hearings on three requests for changes in zoning classifications.

Bert Willison of Harvey Ave. filed an application for a change from the classification R-3 (medium high density residential) to B-1 (neighborhood business) for a property at 1646 Pennsylvania Ave. He said the building presently is used in a non - conforming status as a wholesale grocery warehouse. If the rezoning is approved, the front section will be occupied by a beauty shop and the balance will continue in its present use, he said.

Mrs. William G. Orr of 107 Blakeley St. filed an application for a change from R-3 to B-1 classification for property at Pennsylvania Ave. and Blakely St., known as Lot 1600 in Josiah Thompson's second addition to East Liverpool. She said if the change is allowed, the property will be occupied in part by a beauty shop.

Charles C. Papendry of 1058 Pennsylvania asked a change from R-3 to B-4 (highway or general business) for his property. It is known as Lot No. 1840 in the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles addition.

THE HEARINGS were set in late October because the commission is required to publish a legal notice at least 30 days in advance giving notice of the action. In addition, written notices must be sent to all property owners within 200 feet of the affected property.

If the commission approves the requests, it will advise Council of its action. Council then must schedule public hearings of its own before taking legislative action on the changes.

The commission also approved the minutes of a special meeting Aug. 29 in which it rejected the application of the First National Bank to rezone the former Riggs Co. property on Dresden Ave. from M-2 (limited industrial) to B-5 (central business district.) The bank, acting as trustee for James H. Riggs and P. R. Blake, sought the change in zoning as a prelude to selling the property to an oil company which proposed to raze the brick structure and erect a service station.

The commission met yesterday in its office on the second floor of City Hall. George Steele, chairman, John Parsons, Frank Mangano, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey and Mayor George E. Willshaw attended, along with Planning Coordinator Don Eckert.

Driver 'Poor' After Wreck

A Lisbon area man was admitted to Salem City Hospital early this morning with injuries received in a one-car accident.

Ray Dennis Rudibaugh, 26, of Lisbon RD 3 was driving on Route 14 approximately a half-mile east of Route 7 at 12:15 a.m. when his convertible went off the right side of the road into a ditch, came out of the ditch and then overturned several times. Rudibaugh was thrown from the car, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

Rudibaugh suffered a possible fracture of the right shoulder, lacerations of the right hand and abrasions of the head, back, both hands and feet and the right thigh. He was listed in "poor" condition late this morning.

In another accident last night at 6:20, Lloyd Welch, 48, of Lisbon RD 3, driving a compact on Route 518, two miles west of Route 164, slid left of center, striking a 1959 sports coach operated by Jack E. Lucas, 35, of East Liverpool RD 1 and a 1968 coach driven by John H. Hochmann, 35, of Leetonia RD 1. Welch was cited by the patrol for driving with excessive speed for road conditions.

Syracuse Negro Youths Stage Second Rampage

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Small groups of Negro youths roamed a section of the South Side for more than seven hours Monday night and early today, hurling rocks, bottles and debris at passing automobiles.

Four persons were reported injured in the outburst that came in an area hit by a similar, but brief, disturbance Sunday.

Police used tear gas Sunday to disperse a crowd of about 200 demonstrators. None was used in the latest trouble and officers generally avoided any direct confrontations with the jeering youths.

A liquor store, a grocery store and an appliance store were looted in the latest outbreak, which broke up about 3 a.m., almost as suddenly as it began.

Several streets in the predominantly Negro area were sealed off.

Two teen-agers were arrested, one on a burglary charge and the other on a criminal mischief count.

Throughout the evening and into the early morning, patrol cars—a particular target of the rock-throwers—rushed from area to area at each report of a gathering of youths.

Police said they could not pinpoint a cause for the violence.

Initiative Called Vital Ingredient In County Needs

LISBON — Initiative is the ingredient needed to sell Columbiana County to someone who can bring the development, the jobs and the paychecks this county needs, Bert Dawson Jr. of East Liverpool told the County Republican Advisory Council Monday noon at the Wick Hotel.

A candidate for county engineer, Dawson said many county residents must drive miles daily to earn their livelihood. "Many county families are able to be together only once a year at the holidays because the children have grown and moved miles away where they found suitable jobs," he added.

He said this problem will get worse before it gets better. He called attention to increased enrollments in Kent State University branches at East Liverpool and Salem and in area high schools and trade and business schools.

Ford McQuilkin of Homeworth, county GOP chairman, announced the Republican election year dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 12 at Beaver Local High School.

Letha Astry of Salem, county chairman for Nixon, announced the County Women for Nixon Committee will sponsor a luncheon at 1:30 p. m. Oct. 3 at the Salem Golf Club.

The speakers will be Florence Morris, state chairman of Women For Nixon; Martha Moore, state vice chairman and national committeewoman from Ohio, and Kathryn Kennedy Brown, president of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women.

The state convention will be Sept. 28 at the RKO Theater in Columbus.

Ohio Board Okays Hamilton County Joint School District

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Formation of the Hamilton County Joint Vocational School District—possibly the largest of its type in the nation — was authorized Monday by the State Board of Education.

State Supt. of Public Instruction Martin W. Essex said the venture is "the concept of vocational preparation that should be formed to provide comprehensive vocational education to students in a metropolitan region."

If the 22 participating school districts—21 in Hamilton County and one in Warren County—approve the board's action, a $12 million construction levy to finance the program will be submitted to voters.

State Vocational Education Director Byrl Shoemaker said the new district, which will draw on a 31.3 billion tax base, is the largest of its type in Ohio, and possibly the nation.

The 22 districts have a total public school enrollment of 78,000, with 23,800 in the high school grades. Those eligible would be offered training in 43 occupational areas.

Tentative plans call for four schools with 1,600 students each.

In other action, the state board approved a $3 million grant to the Montgomery County Joint Vocational School District for construction and equipment. It is the largest such grant in state's history.

It will permit the district to start construction on a $6.5 million school for 1,800 students.

Officers Probe Entry Of Auto Sales Agency

Police are investigating a burglary discovered early today in the parts department and the auto reconditioning department of Litten Motor Sales on Walnut St.

Harry Y. George, the owner, told police the firm must make an inventory to find if anything is missing.

The sales building was entered by breaking a wooden panel out of a door on the west side. The opening gave access to the garage. The intruder then forced an interior door to enter the parts department. The reconditioning shop was entered by breaking a latch on a door on the east side of the building.

Ray Dennis Rudibaugh, 26, of Lisbon RD 3 was driving on Route 14 approximately a half-mile east of Route 7 at 12:15 a.m. when his convertible went off the right side of the road into a ditch, came out of the ditch and then overturned several times. Rudibaugh was thrown from the car, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

Rudibaugh suffered a possible fracture of the right shoulder, lacerations of the right hand and abrasions of the head, back, both hands and feet and the right thigh. He was listed in "poor" condition late this morning.

In another accident last night at 6:20, Lloyd Welch, 48, of Lisbon RD 3, driving a compact on Route 518, two miles west of Route 164, slid left of center, striking a 1959 sports coach operated by Jack E. Lucas, 35, of East Liverpool RD 1 and a 1968 coach driven by John H. Hochmann, 35, of Leetonia RD 1. Welch was cited by the patrol for driving with excessive speed for road conditions.

Syracuse Negro Youths Stage Second Rampage

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Small groups of Negro youths roamed a section of the South Side for more than seven hours Monday night and early today, hurling rocks, bottles and debris at passing automobiles.

Four persons were reported injured in the outburst that came in an area hit by a similar, but brief, disturbance Sunday.

Police used tear gas Sunday to disperse a crowd of about 200 demonstrators. None was used in the latest trouble and officers generally avoided any direct confrontations with the jeering youths.

A liquor store, a grocery store and an appliance store were looted in the latest outbreak, which broke up about 3 a.m., almost as suddenly as it began.

Several streets in the predominantly Negro area were sealed off.

Two teen-agers were arrested, one on a burglary charge and the other on a criminal mischief count.

Throughout the evening and into the early morning, patrol cars—a particular target of the rock-throwers—rushed from area to area at each report of a gathering of youths.

Police said they could not pinpoint a cause for the violence.

Initiative Called Vital Ingredient In County Needs

LISBON — Initiative is the ingredient needed to sell Columbiana County to someone who can bring the development, the jobs and the paychecks this county needs, Bert Dawson Jr. of East Liverpool told the County Republican Advisory Council Monday noon at the Wick Hotel.

A candidate for county engineer, Dawson said many county residents must drive miles daily to earn their livelihood. "Many county families are able to be together only once a year at the holidays because the children have grown and moved miles away where they found suitable jobs," he added.

He said this problem will get worse before it gets better. He called attention to increased enrollments in Kent State University branches at East Liverpool and Salem and in area high schools and trade and business schools.

Ford McQuilkin of Homeworth, county GOP chairman, announced the Republican election year dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 12 at Beaver Local High School.

Letha Astry of Salem, county chairman for Nixon, announced the County Women for Nixon Committee will sponsor a luncheon at 1:30 p. m. Oct. 3 at the Salem Golf Club.

The speakers will be Florence Morris, state chairman of Women For Nixon; Martha Moore, state vice chairman and national committeewoman from Ohio, and Kathryn Kennedy Brown, president of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women.

The state convention will be Sept. 28 at the RKO Theater in Columbus.

Ohio Board Okays Hamilton County Joint School District

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Formation of the Hamilton County Joint Vocational School District—possibly the largest of its type in the nation — was authorized Monday by the State Board of Education.

State Supt. of Public Instruction Martin W. Essex said the venture is "the concept of vocational preparation that should be formed to provide comprehensive vocational education to students in a metropolitan region."

If the 22 participating school districts—21 in Hamilton County and one in Warren County—approve the board's action, a $12 million construction levy to finance the program will be submitted to voters.

State Vocational Education Director Byrl Shoemaker said the new district, which will draw on a 31.3 billion tax base, is the largest of its type in Ohio, and possibly the nation.

The 22 districts have a total public school enrollment of 78,000, with 23,800 in the high school grades. Those eligible would be offered training in 43 occupational areas.

Tentative plans call for four schools with 1,600 students each.

In other action, the state board approved a $3 million grant to the Montgomery County Joint Vocational School District for construction and equipment. It is the largest such grant in state's history.

It will permit the district to start construction on a $6.5 million school for 1,800 students.

Officers Probe Entry Of Auto Sales Agency

Police are investigating a burglary discovered early today in the parts department and the auto reconditioning department of Litten Motor Sales on Walnut St.

Harry Y. George, the owner, told police the firm must make an inventory to find if anything is missing.

The sales building was entered by breaking a wooden panel out of a door on the west side. The opening gave access to the garage. The intruder then forced an interior door to enter the parts department. The reconditioning shop was entered by breaking a latch on a door on the east side of the building.

Gearing Up For Crime Fight

The thrust of proposals by the Ohio Crime Commission's executive committee can be summed up in one word: preparedness.

The commission was authorized by the Ohio General Assembly a year ago to investigate crime and law enforcement in the state and to make recommendations on how best to combat the criminal element.

The commission, after extensive investigation, has proposed a five-point program that includes establishment of a statewide computer and data processing network, a police training academy, courses at state universities leading to a degree in police work and a permanent crime commission.

The idea is to prepare law enforcement personnel to handle their jobs whether it is that of a patrolman or a department head.

The other phase of the preparedness program is to have proper equipment available to agencies across the state and a direct pipeline to the wealth of information compiled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

One of the biggest bonuses given criminals in the state of Ohio is inadequately trained police forces unable to take advantage of information available in other parts of the state and through the FBI because of a lack of equipment and knowhow.

Lack of good training makes a law enforcement agent more likely to make a mistake while trying to perform his duty.

Sen. Ralph S. Regula, R-Navarre, a member of the commission's executive committee, sees better training and better salaries paying big dividends throughout the state.

Increasing crime rates across Ohio have forced the state to take action. The question has been what form the action should take.

The Ohio Crime Commission is on the right track with its program of statewide cooperation comprehensive training and full use of sophisticated equipment.

Police Brutality?

Police violence has more than one meaning, as witness the injuries city Patrolman Ronald Brookes suffered while attempting to subdue a man charged with intoxication Sunday afternoon.

Facing fists, knives and guns is a part of the accepted duties of an officer, and a good policeman does not shrink from enforcing law and order no matter what the hazard. In contrast with the current national issue of so-called police brutality, it is also obvious that many law men themselves become victims when attempting to curb trouble by rational and nonviolence methods.

There are very few cases of battered heads and bruised faces at the hands of the police in this nation which are not prompted by violation of law or infringement upon the peace and quiet of others.

Peace Unintentionally

Unfavorable reaction to the Soviet Union's invasion of Czechoslovakia continues to be voiced around the world. But it seems that nowhere is the protest heard louder than in Communist Yugoslavia.

President Tito of Yugoslavia, in a speech last week, called again for a quick withdrawal of the Warsaw Pact forces from Czechoslovakia.

The Presidium and Executive Committee of the Yugoslav Socialist Alliance backed him up in jointly adopting a resolution which expresses "profound indignation" at the aggression of the five Warsaw Pact countries.

THE RESOLUTION reaffirms the need for self-management in a socialist system and gives a clear warning that Yugoslavia, if attacked, will fight.

Other sections of the resolution lead observers in Belgrade to believe that the government may make preparations for guerilla warfare.

One of the chairmen at the Socialist Alliance conference painted a pretty clear picture of the Yugoslav feeling about the Czech incident when he said:

"Our people have been forced to grasp again the implacable awareness that the socialist system of a country is not in itself any guarantee that the country concerned can feel completely secure, at least against other socialist countries."

PERHAPS RUSSIA, in invading Czechoslovakia to enforce its orthodox form of communism on a "straying" sister socialist state, will have done more, unintentionally, to bring peace to the world than is now realized.

By showing her true colors and making other Communist nations aware of their own insecurity within the Communist world, she may so weaken the Red bloc that it will no longer be powerful enough to effectively threaten world peace.

Tennis, Anyone?

East Liverpool is not going to produce an Arthur Ashe or a Billie Jo King in any big hurry if the tennis facilities at Thompson Park are not improved.

Installation of lighting at the courts earlier this year gave hope to players that at long last evening games would be possible. Not so, the coin-operated equipment did not work properly due to various reasons, primarily because of vandals.

So tennis enthusiasts are lamenting the seemingly useless investment of money in the lights which only reflect the rising moon while players straggle disconsolately from the courts in darkness as early as 8 p.m.

It is hoped the lighting problem can be solved next year, the courts resurfaced, fencing repaired and painted and other needed maintenance undertaken. Tennis is one of the fastest growing sports in the U.S. and this area — Midland has three new popular courts — and the residents of East Liverpool deserve the proper facilities which a forward-minded park commission originally intended to provide.

Cover Story Needed

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — It's hard to believe the Soviet Union would invade a country the size of Czechoslovakia without a decent cover story. Originally, if you recall, the Soviets announced they were coming into the country with other Warsaw Pact troops at the request of Czechoslovak leaders. But someone goofed, because when Russians were asked at the United Nations who the Czech leaders were, the Soviets couldn't come up with one name.

Art Buchwald

Then the Russians changed their story and said they were invading Czechoslovakia to prevent the Czechs from being overrun by the West Germans. When this one was sent up the flag pole and no one saluted, the Soviets finally said they had invaded Czechoslovakia to protect the Czechs from themselves.

FOR SOME REASON the world hasn't bought it, and so the Russians are still hard at work in the Kremlin trying to figure out a story that will justify their occupation.

I have the minutes of the last meeting of the "Central Committee in Charge of Invading Small Countries."

"Comrade Petrov, it has been three weeks now and we still haven't been able to explain what we're doing in Czechoslovakia."

"I am well aware of that, Comrad Stumpnitch, and I assure you everyone in the fiction division of the Soviet Writer's Union is working on it. As a matter of fact, I have just been given a plan by Boris Boganski that I wish to submit to the committee."

"Proceed."

"BOGANSKI SUGGESTS we announce that the reson the Soviets invaded Czechoslovakia was to scout the Czech Olympic team for the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City."

"You must be kidding, Petrov."

"I'm not. We should say that the Soviet soldiers manning the tanks are really Soviet track men in disguise, who didn't want to call attention to the real purpose of their visit."

"That's the worst cover story we've heard so far, Petrov, and we've heard some pretty bad ones. Hasn't anyone been able to find one person in Prague who will say he asked us to come into the country?"

"We've found one."

"Great, that's all we need is one. Who is he?"

"The Soviet ambassador to Czechoslovakia."

"Holy Lenin, what kind of a Kremlin do we have, if we can't even come up with a good excuse for invading a lousy little country like Czechoslovakia? What happens when we invade a big country?"

"Comrade Sorovensky, why couldn't we say we sent into Czechoslovakia to prevent an America-Zionist-Maoist-Fascist-counterrevolutionary plot?"

"We have said it, you idiot. But no one believes us. Even the Soviet people don't believe us."

"To think there would ever be a credibility gap in the Soviet Union."

"You're all a bunch of stupid hard-line Communists. Here we have 600,000 troops sitting in Czechoslovakia and no one knows what we're doing there."

"Couldn't we say we're there for rest and recreation?"

"No, we can't. Now let's start from the beginning. Why did we send our troops in?"

"To preserve law and order."

"THAT'S NOT BAD And why did they fire on the population?"

"Because our soldiers were provoked, spit on, cursed, and people threw rotten fish and beer cans on them from hotel windows."

"Of course. And we only used as much force as necessary to restore order."

"That's good. Now what about all the arrests we made?"

"We only arrested those people who, in the opinion of our troops, were disturbing the peace."

"Beautiful, Comrade Rushenko. Where did you get the idea?"

"From watching the Democratic National Convention on television."

VICTOR RIESEL

Dock Wallopers Were There

NEW YORK — In the hippy bag of the jean-clad Chicago demonstrators were resistance tactics for confronting, taunting and handling merely the police, the National Guard and the regular U.S. Army. But there was another force, mighty handy at this sort of infighting, on which the bearded youth had not counted. Namely, the Chicago longshoremen.

Victor Riesel

They were there — en masse. Thousands of them On Wednesday, Aug. 28, their national leader, International Longshoremen's Assn. I.L.A. President Teddy Gleason, had "nkocked off" the Great Lakes port, on which piers work some 5,000 dockwallopers.

Of these, about 2,000 dockers stood by that afternoon and evening — during the hours Hubert Humphrey was being nominated.

They were ready to counterdemonstrate. Teddy Gleason, staunch Democrat that he is, wanted to prove that there were Humphrey forces, working people, ready to hit the streets for the "Veep."

On Tuesday night the ILA had put a token force of 200 pier men in front of the besieged Fortress Hilton. But across the street young Tom Hayden and the Mobilization stood at the head of thousands.

SO MR. GLEASON, operating out of a Sheraton Blackstone hotel suite, into which he got at night by stepping carefully over the sleeping hippy-yippie bodies, thought the time had come to show the flag.

The next evening would see Hubert Humphrey nominated. This would be the time to cheer. So "Teddy" locked the docks and called in thousands of union men for an 11 p.m. demonstration on Wednesday in front of the now reeking headquarters hotel.

There would have been hell. No army, no police force has yet dispersed thousands of angry longshoremen — at least not in three decades. There is a history of dockwallopers' reaction to "Mobilizers" carrying Vietcong flags.

Black flags are enough to make the longshoremen see red. But the National Liberation Front enemy banners always touch off crunching dockers' counteraction. There was one such bloody moment last December in the park at the tip of New York's Manhattan.

An in Chicago, NLF flags fluttered along with long hair in Lincoln and Grant parks.

Then at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Humphrey's aides telephoned Mr. Gleason. Would he come over to the Hilton?

WALKING THROUGH THAT stink-bombed lobby was a heroic feat. But "Teddy" crossed the street and soon was in the Vice President's suite, where Mr. Humphrey was touching up his acceptance speech. The candidate's advice to the longshoreman was: cool it. A friendly demonstration after the nomination would be wonderful, said a vice presidential aide, but there just was no more need for hopping up the hypertension.

Teddy Gleason (as the shipowners will tell you) is a fighting bantam. But he cooled it.

The longshoremen stood by that gory night. But they did not move in.

It may not always be so. The cool could get lost. A few days later AFL-CIO president George Meany flew into Chicago and was cheered by thousands of International Association of Machinists' convention delegates when he referred to the demonstrators as "that dirty-necked, dirty-mouthed group."

That's tough talk from the leader of 14 million unionists. Many of his followers are mighty brawny men. They are the working class — no matter how loudly Tom Hayden's young militants denounce them as minions of the establishment.

Of course, violence begets counter-violence. Who can continue to deny such labor leaders as Ted Gleason the right to counterdemonstrate?

Perhaps it has not leaked out of some labor circles, but there are union locals across the land ready for counteraction. No police lines will hold them. What then?

THIS ISN'T Paris, France. Here the workers and students don't march shoulder to shoulder. Here the youthful Mobilization will find its confrontations confronting the very working class whose cause the young people supposedly espouse and whom they're attempting to "radicalize."

This, then, is an appeal to reason. Hurling urine-filled beer cans, or other offal, or spitting on police, is infantile "revolutionism." It begets a police "overkill." The police are a military force. They move on orders.

The young Mobilizers should look back into history. The earth churns when labor legions counteract. They move as an enraged mass. Therefore let the young Mobilizers realize what they're unleashing.

In the heat of battle it may be impossible to regain the cool.

As we used to say, hire a hall, find a Hyde Park, Marble Arch corner, denounce the king, the queen and the establishment.

But it could be that the middle class just doesn't want to be radicalized, and may want the streets to themselves.

Berry's World

"You worry about 'our 'society' — I'll worry about ragweed!"

DAVID LAWRENCE

The Agitators

Although some of the big television networks have declined to give Mayor Daley of Chicago the time he requested to explain to the nation his side of the controversy over the disturbances in Chicago last week, there is grave doubt whether a speech would be adequate to overcome the ill effects of the pictures that were shown on the screens throughout the country.

Probably the only way that two sides of the story can be presented on television is to have certain scenes re-enacted which were not caught by the cameras in the first place. Much of the disorder in Chicago was in places where there were no television cameras.

Rocks were thrown at police, acid was sprayed into their faces and other acts of violence were committed which provoked the policemen. When they tried to arrest the demonstrators who engaged in such tactics, clubs had to be used. The television cameras caught the latter action but not what had preceded.

EVEN IF ALL THE POLICE in Chicago who were the victims of these assaults were to tell their story on the air, it is doubtful whether many of the people who saw the few bits of film on TV screens would forgive the police for the use of their clubs.

Television is a different form of expression from the printed word. Unless pictures can be made of both sides in a street fight or a riot, there will always be charges of unfairness and bias.

The tendency also is to deal with the demonstrators as if all of them did the same things. Most of them started out to be orderly.

The few activists who stirred up the trouble did so undoubtedly as a result of plans made beforehand. Members of Congress are saying so in their speeches. In an editorial on Tuesday of this week, the Chicago Tribune said:

"The revolutionaries who worked up street disorders here are well pleased with the results and are announcing that the melees at the Democratic National Convention are just the prelude to "200 or 300 Chicago" between now and election day. They are going to hound the presidential candidates around the country and stir up more trouble.

"Tom Hayden, founder of the Radical Students for a Democratic Society, said:

" 'We are going to create little Chicagos everywhere the candidates appear. Our goal is to underscore the illegitimacy of government and to show it doesn't have any hope of governing without social change, beginning with an end to the war.' "

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has warned that radical students are planning widespread attacks on American campuses this autumn. He says:

"It is vitally important to recognize that these militant extremists are not simply faddists or 'college kids' at play. Their cries for revolution and their advocacy of guerilla warfare evolve out of a pathological hatred for our way of life and a determination to destroy it."

There is no doubt that the general public is hardly aware as yet of the many seditious forces that are at work trying to break down law and order in America. Because a national political convention was being held at Chicago, it was a natural place on which the revolutionaries could center their attention.

The strategy is to form what appears to be a peaceful demonstration. Then certain individuals in the crowd start to throw rocks and bottles at the police, and the consequence is a riot. But why, it is being asked, doesn't the U.S. Department of Justice prosecute the persons who cross state lines to instigate riots?

The Chicago Tribune wonders about this same thing. It says:

"If the Justice Department had any courage or sense, it would proceed at once against the ringleaders who have openly boasted of their intent, in defiance of a law passed at this session of Congress prescribing prison terms and fines for agitators crossing state lines to incite a riot."

CONGRESS HAS REASSEMBLED for a brief session, and members are openly demanding that something be done about the riots and that federal laws be invoked promptly to punish the originators of the violence.

Rumors are current that the FBI has for many months been gathering information about the plans of the agitators but that for some unknown reason the administration has been reluctant to proceed against them.

One allegation heard is that the Democratic administration feared it would lose votes among the Negroes because some of their militant leaders might have to be included among those indicted for conspiracies to provoke violence.

By showing her true colors and making other Communist nations aware of their own insecurity within the Communist world, she may so weaken the Red bloc that it will no longer be powerful enough to effectively threaten world peace.

Tennis, Anyone?

East Liverpool is not going to produce an Arthur Ashe or a Billie Jo King in any big hurry if the tennis facilities at Thompson Park are not improved.

Installation of lighting at the courts earlier this year gave hope to players that at long last evening games would be possible. Not so, the coin-operated equipment did not work properly due to various reasons, primarily because of vandals.

So tennis enthusiasts are lamenting the seemingly useless investment of money in the lights which only reflect the rising moon while players straggle disconsolately from the courts in darkness as early as 8 p.m.

It is hoped the lighting problem can be solved next year, the courts resurfaced, fencing repaired and painted and other needed maintenance undertaken. Tennis is one of the fastest growing sports in the U.S. and this area — Midland has three new popular courts — and the residents of East Liverpool deserve the proper facilities which a forward-minded park commission originally intended to provide.

Cover Story Needed

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — It's hard to believe the Soviet Union would invade a country the size of Czechoslovakia without a decent cover story. Originally, if you recall, the Soviets announced they were coming into the country with other Warsaw Pact troops at the request of Czechoslovak leaders. But someone goofed, because when Russians were asked at the United Nations who the Czech leaders were, the Soviets couldn't come up with one name.

Art Buchwald

Then the Russians changed their story and said they were invading Czechoslovakia to prevent the Czechs from being overrun by the West Germans. When this one was sent up the flag pole and no one saluted, the Soviets finally said they had invaded Czechoslovakia to protect the Czechs from themselves.

FOR SOME REASON the world hasn't bought it, and so the Russians are still hard at work in the Kremlin trying to figure out a story that will justify their occupation.

I have the minutes of the last meeting of the "Central Committee in Charge of Invading Small Countries."

"Comrade Petrov, it has been three weeks now and we still haven't been able to explain what we're doing in Czechoslovakia."

"I am well aware of that, Comrad Stumpnitch, and I assure you everyone in the fiction division of the Soviet Writer's Union is working on it. As a matter of fact, I have just been given a plan by Boris Boganski that I wish to submit to the committee."

"Proceed."

"BOGANSKI SUGGESTS we announce that the reson the Soviets invaded Czechoslovakia was to scout the Czech Olympic team for the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City."

"You must be kidding, Petrov."

"I'm not. We should say that the Soviet soldiers manning the tanks are really Soviet track men in disguise, who didn't want to call attention to the real purpose of their visit."

"That's the worst cover story we've heard so far, Petrov, and we've heard some pretty bad ones. Hasn't anyone been able to find one person in Prague who will say he asked us to come into the country?"

"We've found one."

"Great, that's all we need is one. Who is he?"

"The Soviet ambassador to Czechoslovakia."

"Holy Lenin, what kind of a Kremlin do we have, if we can't even come up with a good excuse for invading a lousy little country like Czechoslovakia? What happens when we invade a big country?"

"Comrade Sorovensky, why couldn't we say we sent into Czechoslovakia to prevent an America-Zionist-Maoist-Fascist-counterrevolutionary plot?"

"We have said it, you idiot. But no one believes us. Even the Soviet people don't believe us."

"To think there would ever be a credibility gap in the Soviet Union."

"You're all a bunch of stupid hard-line Communists. Here we have 600,000 troops sitting in Czechoslovakia and no one knows what we're doing there."

"Couldn't we say we're there for rest and recreation?"

"No, we can't. Now let's start from the beginning. Why did we send our troops in?"

"To preserve law and order."

"THAT'S NOT BAD And why did they fire on the population?"

"Because our soldiers were provoked, spit on, cursed, and people threw rotten fish and beer cans on them from hotel windows."

"Of course. And we only used as much force as necessary to restore order."

"That's good. Now what about all the arrests we made?"

"We only arrested those people who, in the opinion of our troops, were disturbing the peace."

"Beautiful, Comrade Rushenko. Where did you get the idea?"

"From watching the Democratic National Convention on television."

VICTOR RIESEL

Dock Wallopers Were There

NEW YORK — In the hippy bag of the jean-clad Chicago demonstrators were resistance tactics for confronting, taunting and handling merely the police, the National Guard and the regular U.S. Army. But there was another force, mighty handy at this sort of infighting, on which the bearded youth had not counted. Namely, the Chicago longshoremen. They were there — en masse. Thousands of them On Wednesday, Aug. 28, their national leader, International Longshoremen's Assn. I.L.A. President Teddy Gleason, had "nkocked off" the Great Lakes port, on which piers work some 5,000 dockwallopers.

Victor Riesel

Of these, about 2,000 dockers stood by that afternoon and evening — during the hours Hubert Humphrey was being nominated.

They were ready to counterdemonstrate. Teddy Gleason, staunch Democrat that he is, wanted to prove that there were Humphrey forces, working people, ready to hit the streets for the "Veep."

On Tuesday night the ILA had put a token force of 200 pier men in front of the besieged Fortress Hilton. But across the street young Tom Hayden and the Mobilization stood at the head of thousands.

SO MR. GLEASON, operating out of a Sheraton Blackstone hotel suite, into which he got at night by stepping carefully over the sleeping hippy-yippie bodies, thought the time had come to show the flag.

The next evening would see Hubert Humphrey nominated. This would be the time to cheer. So "Teddy" locked the docks and called in thousands of union men for an 11 p.m. demonstration on Wednesday in front of the now reeking headquarters hotel.

There would have been hell. No army, no police force has yet dispersed thousands of angry longshoremen — at least not in three decades. There is a history of dockwallopers' reaction to "Mobilizers" carrying Vietcong flags.

Black flags are enough to make the longshoremen see red. But the National Liberation Front enemy banners always touch off crunching dockers' counteraction. There was one such bloody moment last December in the park at the tip of New York's Manhattan.

An in Chicago, NLF flags fluttered along with long hair in Lincoln and Grant parks.

Then at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Humphrey's aides telephoned Mr. Gleason. Would he come over to the Hilton?

WALKING THROUGH THAT stink-bombed lobby was a heroic feat. But "Teddy" crossed the street and soon was in the Vice President's suite, where Mr. Humphrey was touching up his acceptance speech. The candidate's advice to the longshoreman was: cool it. A friendly demonstration after the nomination would be wonderful, said a vice presidential aide, but there just was no more need for hopping up the hypertension.

Teddy Gleason (as the shipowners will tell you) is a fighting bantam. But he cooled it.

The longshoremen stood by that gory night. But they did not move in.

It may not always be so. The cool could get lost. A few days later AFL-CIO president George Meany flew into Chicago and was cheered by thousands of International Association of Machinists' convention delegates when he referred to the demonstrators as "that dirty-necked, dirty-mouthed group."

That's tough talk from the leader of 14 million unionists. Many of his followers are mighty brawny men. They are the working class — no matter how loudly Tom Hayden's young militants denounce them as minions of the establishment.

Of course, violence begets counter-violence. Who can continue to deny such labor leaders as Ted Gleason the right to counterdemonstrate?

Perhaps it has not leaked out of some labor circles, but there are union locals across the land ready for counteraction. No police lines will hold them. What then?

THIS ISN'T Paris, France. Here the workers and students don't march shoulder to shoulder. Here the youthful Mobilization will find its confrontations confronting the very working class whose cause the young people supposedly espouse and whom they're attempting to "radicalize."

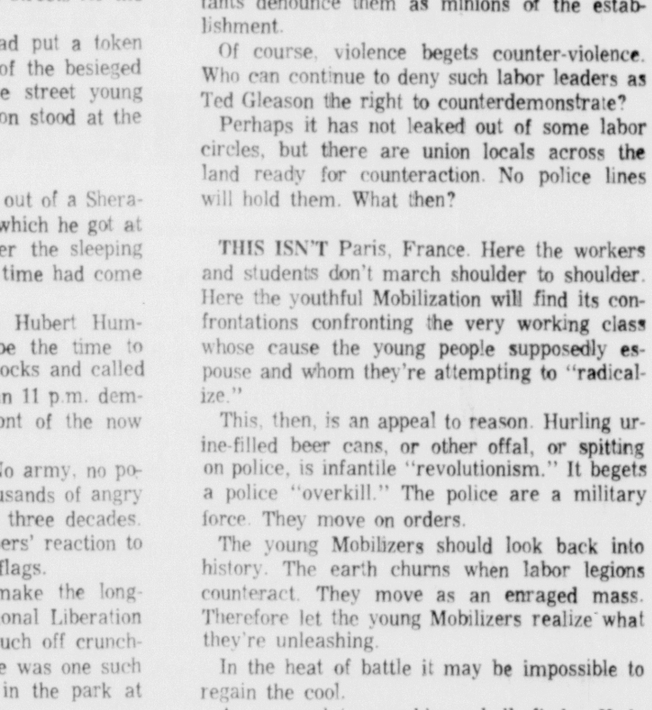

This, then, is an appeal to reason. Hurling urine-filled beer cans, or other offal, or spitting on police, is infantile "revolutionism." It begets a police "overkill." The police are a military force. They move on orders.

The young Mobilizers should look back into history. The earth churns when labor legions counteract. They move as an enraged mass. Therefore let the young Mobilizers realize what they're unleashing.

In the heat of battle it may be impossible to regain the cool.

As we used to say, hire a hall, find a Hyde Park, Marble Arch corner, denounce the king, the queen and the establishment.

But it could be that the middle class just doesn't want to be radicalized, and may want the streets to themselves.

DAVID LAWRENCE

The Agitators

Although some of the big television networks have declined to give Mayor Daley of Chicago the time he requested to explain to the nation his side of the controversy over the disturbances in Chicago last week, there is grave doubt whether a speech would be adequate to overcome the ill effects of the pictures that were shown on the screens throughout the country.

Probably the only way that two sides of the story can be presented on television is to have certain scenes re-enacted which were not caught by the cameras in the first place. Much of the disorder in Chicago was in places where there were no television cameras.

Rocks were thrown at police, acid was sprayed into their faces and other acts of violence were committed which provoked the policemen. When they tried to arrest the demonstrators who engaged in such tactics, clubs had to be used. The television cameras caught the latter action but not what had preceded.

EVEN IF ALL THE POLICE in Chicago who were the victims of these assaults were to tell their story on the air, it is doubtful whether many of the people who saw the few bits of film on TV screens would forgive the police for the use of their clubs.

Television is a different form of expression from the printed word. Unless pictures can be made of both sides in a street fight or a riot, there will always be charges of unfairness and bias.

The tendency also is to deal with the demonstrators as if all of them did the same things. Most of them started out to be orderly.

The few activists who stirred up the trouble did so undoubtedly as a result of plans made beforehand. Members of Congress are saying so in their speeches. In an editorial on Tuesday of this week, the Chicago Tribune said:

"The revolutionaries who worked up street disorders here are well pleased with the results and are announcing that the melees at the Democratic National Convention are just the prelude to "200 or 300 Chicago" between now and election day. They are going to hound the presidential candidates around the country and stir up more trouble.

"Tom Hayden, founder of the Radical Students for a Democratic Society, said:

" 'We are going to create little Chicagos everywhere the candidates appear. Our goal is to underscore the illegitimacy of government and to show it doesn't have any hope of governing without social change, beginning with an end to the war.' "

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has warned that radical students are planning widespread attacks on American campuses this autumn. He says:

"It is vitally important to recognize that these militant extremists are not simply faddists or 'college kids' at play. Their cries for revolution and their advocacy of guerilla warfare evolve out of a pathological hatred for our way of life and a determination to destroy it."

There is no doubt that the general public is hardly aware as yet of the many seditious forces that are at work trying to break down law and order in America. Because a national political convention was being held at Chicago, it was a natural place on which the revolutionaries could center their attention.

The strategy is to form what appears to be a peaceful demonstration. Then certain individuals in the crowd start to throw rocks and bottles at the police, and the consequence is a riot. But why, it is being asked, doesn't the U.S. Department of Justice prosecute the persons who cross state lines to instigate riots?

The Chicago Tribune wonders about this same thing. It says:

"If the Justice Department had any courage or sense, it would proceed at once against the ringleaders who have openly boasted of their intent, in defiance of a law passed at this session of Congress prescribing prison terms and fines for agitators crossing state lines to incite a riot."

CONGRESS HAS REASSEMBLED for a brief session, and members are openly demanding that something be done about the riots and that federal laws be invoked promptly to punish the originators of the violence.

Rumors are current that the FBI has for many months been gathering information about the plans of the agitators but that for some unknown reason the administration has been reluctant to proceed against them.

One allegation heard is that the Democratic administration feared it would lose votes among the Negroes because some of their militant leaders might have to be included among those indicted for conspiracies to provoke violence.

Gilligan Senate Campaign Seen $75,000 In Red

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan's Senate campaign is $75,000 in the red, a Democratic party spokesman admitted here Monday.

Gilligan strategists say they have no assurance of funds from either the Democratic National Committee or from organized labor, but hope that both sources will come through.

Gilligan met with Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton over the weekend. Results of their discussion were not announced.

Gilligan's Republican adversary, Ohio Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, told a Cleveland audience Sunday he was "shocked and dismayed" to hear that Gilligan had met Eaton.

Saxbe said Eaton, who has been friendly with various Communist leaders, "is a man who thinks there's not much wrong with the arrangement in Russia."

Gilligan, who now publicly states that he needs $200,000 for television advertising, had challenged Saxbe to a television debate. His aids reported Monday that Saxbe would not debate, although the candidates have appeared on the same platform and are scheduled to do so again.

Various Actions Taken By Board

The recommendation of Supt. Don Lowe for the appointment of a certified employe and the revision of the Board Policy Booklet were approved and permission to attend professional meetings was granted by the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night.

Mrs. Eileen Bush was appointed instructor in Business Education at a salary of $5,300.

At Lowe's suggestion that the board have two representatives on the committee to study the booklet and make recommendations for deletions and additions, William Ferrall, president, named Dr. Frank Rivelle and Phillip Chronister. The committee also will include two teachers and the superintendent. Additions have been made to the Board Policy Booklet during the six years it has been in use.

—:—

LOWE WILL attend the Ohio Association of School Administrators fall conference Oct. 16-18 in Columbus; Dr. Rivelle, the Ohio School Board conference Nov. 14-16 at Columbus; Michael Shutrick and Raymond Polley Jr., the Ohio Guidance conference Sept. 26-27 at Columbus; Mrs. Ruthella Kerr, mathematics meeting, Oct. 24-25 at Pittsburgh.

In other business, the board approved the adoption of courses of study at Daw Junior High School and grades one through three as recommended by Lowe.

Lowe reported receipt of self-evaluation reports for all schools in the system which are due in Columbus by Nov. 1. The reports, to be filled out by himself and the principals of each building, will determine whether standards of the Ohio board of education are met.

—:—

EARL MUNDY, supervisor of custodians and maintenance reported a leak in the high school building roof over the library, a leak over the hall at Fairview School and a heater rusting in the dressing room at the stadium due to a leak in the roof. He was authorized to obtain a roofer to repair the leaks.

Dr. Rivelle suggested expanding certain accommodations at Nicholson Stadium, pointing out the dressing room is not large enough to accommodate those in uniform. He said the education improvements made were needed, but the taxpayers also want to see something tangibel for their money. He suggested a committee be appointed to obtain plans and ascertain the cost of a building program.

Ferrall commented, "I agree we need a bigger dressing room, but the stadium is used only five times a year and the season is already started this year. I would like to see the matter ride this year and find out what our financial situation is. We also need a revamped public address system and a new press box."

Also in his reports, Lowe said that the teachers' meeting Sept. 3 went well and the small-group instructions "were of great value." The opening day of school, Sept. 4, also moved on schedule, he added. He said the new schedule in Daw Junior High and the high school "is operating smoothly, creating less confusion."

—:—

PERMISSION was granted the Little League to use the foodbuilt field at the stadium for Sunday games, with the provision that they pay the custodian. It was announced that the Jaycees have begun their weekly Saturday night dance at the MacDonald all-purpose room. They will close at 11 p.m. There will be no broadcast this year, it was pointed out.

Copies of a report of summer repairs and equipment for 61 class rooms, restrooms, Beacom Memorial gym, visual education room at Daw Junior High School, guidance counselor room and high school library were distributed. Charles Glass was the other board member present. Miss Mary Jenkins was absent.

Berkeley's Public Schools Becoming Fully Integrated

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The public schools of Berkeley become fully integrated today as the city starts busing some 3,500 grade school children up and down the hills, to and from Negro and white neighborhoods.

The children will be carried in 25 buses.

"We consider this the first and most thorough of all school integration systems of significant size in the country," said Dr. Dan Freudenthal, coordinator of research and publications for the Berkeley Board of Education.

Berkeley, home of the University of California has about 110,000 residents.

Junior and senior high schools were integrated in Berkeley four year ago. Controversy ensued at the start of desegregation plans has been overcome, Freudenthal said.

Some 9,000 grade school children attend Berkeley schools—41 per cent Negro, about 50 per cent white, the rest Oriental and other races. Ultimately, all the pupils will be involved in the busing, since during some periods the children will live close enough to their assigned schools to walk, while at other times their schools will require a bus.

At the start of their school careers, the children of all races will attend the 11 elementary schools in the mostly white sections in the Berkeley Highlands.

From the fourth through sixth grades, the pupils will be bused to schools in the Negro sections in the flatlands.

The interest generated by the Berkeley grade school integration plan created a special situation for opening day.

Reporters were permitted to ride on buses with the children, enter schools, check in with principals and talk to teachers in class.

Eight months were spent preparing the system' 397 teachers for the change, and readying the community for the system.

Freudenthal said problems are expected, but he adds, "We will cope. We're ready to move."

Freudenthal said that general opposition to busing under the new grade school plan "has faded out" since failure in 1964 of attempts to block desegregation of junior and senior high schools in Berkeley.

Four Convicted In W.Va. Bribe Trial File Pleas

CHARLESTON (AP)—All four men convicted of conspiring to commit bribery in the award of state government contracts have filed appeals in U.S. District Court.

Elkins attorney Bonn Brown and Clarksburg auto dealer Alfred W. Schroath filed motions for a new trial Monday. Former State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers and former Deputy Road Commissioner Vincent J. Johnkowski filed motions last week.

Former Gov. W. W. Barron, tried with the four men on conspiracy charge leveled by the federal government, was acquitted by the jury of seven women and five men two weeks ago.

Brown and Schroath contended in their motions that Special Judge J. Robert Martin's charge to the jury when it reported it was deadlocked during the second day of deliberations prevented an impartial verdict.

Griffin Urges Reopening Of Hearing On Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) The Senate Judiciary Committee has been asked to reopen hearings into the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice to take a fresh look at tasks he performed for the President while on the high court.

The new hearings were called for Monday by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., leader of a Senate bloc opposed to President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to succeed Earl Warren.

Griffin sent memorandums to committee members in advance of a new attempt today to muster a quorum for some action on the nomination that has been locked in committee since June.

Floor sessions of the Senate were canceled for the day, depriving opponents of Fortas of one parliamentary weapon to delay action.

Under Senate rules, a committee can meet when the main body is in session only by unanimous consent.

The committee failed to muster a quorum last Wednesday when all the members opposed to Fortas stayed away.

Griffin urged committee members to reopen the hearings to determine "the full extent of Mr. Fortas' involvement in the operations of the executive branch while sitting as a justice of the Supreme Court."

Griffin cited specifically a magazine article which said that after Richard Goodwin, then a White House aide, worked on Johnson's 1966 State of the Union speech it was turned over to Fortas and Clark M. Clifford "who began chopping it up."

Griffin suggested the committee call Goodwin and Clifford, now secretary of defense.

He also suggested members of the Senate Appropriations Committee might be questioned on a variation to chief justice. The comment pending floor action on Fortas.

Griffin Urges Reopening Of Hearing On Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) The Senate Judiciary Committee has been asked to reopen hearings into the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice to take a fresh look at tasks he performed for the President while on the high court.

The new hearings were called for Monday by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., leader of a Senate bloc opposed to President Johnson's nomination of Fortas to succeed Earl Warren.

Griffin sent memorandums to committee members in advance of a new attempt today to muster a quorum for some action on the nomination that has been locked in committee since June.

Floor sessions of the Senate were canceled for the day, depriving opponents of Fortas of one parliamentary weapon to delay action.

Under Senate rules, a committee can meet when the main body is in session only by unanimous consent.

The committee failed to muster a quorum last Wednesday when all the members opposed to Fortas stayed away.

Griffin urged committee members to reopen the hearings to determine "the full extent of Mr. Fortas' involvement in the operations of the executive branch while sitting as a justice of the Supreme Court."

Griffin cited specifically a magazine article which said that after Richard Goodwin, then a White House aide, worked on Johnson's 1966 State of the Union speech it was turned over to Fortas and Clark M. Clifford "who began chopping it up."

Griffin suggested the committee call Goodwin and Clifford, now secretary of defense.

He also suggested members of the Senate Appropriations Committee might be questioned on a report that Fortas helped draft an amendment to a bill providing Secret Service protection for all presidential candidates.

Fortas acknowledged during his own testimony before the committee in July that he had participated in White House conferences on Vietnam and on the 1967 riots in Detroit.

He said, however, that his role was limited to summarizing the statements of others for the President.

Mansfield, arguing that the committee owes Johnson the courtesy of a vote on Fortas, said the matters raised by Griffin "would be well brought up on the floor."

In a related development, an Associated Press survey of the Senate showed 46 members saying they would vote for Fortas' confirmation if it were brought to the floor now, 26 saying they were opposed, and 23 uncommitted.

Four senators could not be reached.

One of those listed against in the AP survey is Virginia Democrat Harry F. Byrd Jr., who told the Senate in a speech Monday that if he were to vote for Fortas, "I would be placing my stamp of approval on the extreme leftist trend of the Warren rourt, a trend to which Mr. Justice Fortas apparently has dedicated himself."

A majority of the 100 members is necessary to confirm. But a two-thirds vote would be needed to shut off the filibuster threatened by opponents.

President Johnson said last week that he believed 60 to 70 senators favor Fortas.

Johnson also has nominated Federal Judge Homer Thornberry to fill the vacancy that would be created by Fortas' elevation to chief justice. The comment pending floor action on Fortas.

3rd St., through East Liverpool, on through the East End of East Liverpool to the Ohio-Pennsylvania line.

6.—That the state of Pennsylvania build a four-lane highway from the Pennsylvania - Ohio line to the Shippingport bridge and on to the four-lane Beaver-Vanport Bridge, already completed.

7.—That the state of Ohio, through its bridge commission, maintain and keep in constant repair the present Chester-East Liverpool Bridge to take care of local car traffic.

8.—That the Newell Bridge Co. keep and maintain its bridge for the local traffic between Newell and East Liverpool.

Charles D. Taylor, the development organization's president, in elaborating, declared: "If the above can be done in a systematic approach, it will create diversification in industries and at the same time create growth in population, forming an East Liverpool, Midland, Chester metropolis that will be for the benefit of all concerned.

"Each step can be taken in a systematic order. However, in our opinion, the highest priority should be the immediate construction of a new bridge, based on the fact that we are facing economic disaster until the normal free flow of truck traffic can cross the river at this point again. It is vital that everyone who has an interest in the area, and its growth, work toward the completion of the above steps."

Chester Clerk Donald Hood was instructed by Mayor Harold Ash to send copies of the plans, along with Chester Council's approval, to officials in city and state government in the areas concerned. Photographs will accompany the plans, Hood said.

3rd St., through East Liverpool, on through the East End of East Liverpool to the Ohio-Pennsylvania line.

6.—That the state of Pennsylvania build a four-lane highway from the Pennsylvania - Ohio line to the Shippingport bridge and on to the four-lane Beaver-Vanport Bridge, already completed.

7.—That the state of Ohio, through its bridge commission, maintain and keep in constant repair the present Chester-East Liverpool Bridge to take care of local car traffic.

8.—That the Newell Bridge Co. keep and maintain its bridge for the local traffic between Newell and East Liverpool.

Charles D. Taylor, the development organization's president, in elaborating, declared: "If the above can be done in a systematic approach, it will create diversification in industries and at the same time create growth in population, forming an East Liverpool, Midland, Chester metropolis that will be for the benefit of all concerned.

"Each step can be taken in a systematic order. However, in our opinion, the highest priority should be the immediate construction of a new bridge, based on the fact that we are facing economic disaster until the normal free flow of truck traffic can cross the river at this point again. It is vital that everyone who has an interest in the area, and its growth, work toward the completion of the above steps."

Chester Clerk Donald Hood was instructed by Mayor Harold Ash to send copies of the plans, along with Chester Council's approval, to officials in city and state government in the areas concerned. Photographs will accompany the plans, Hood said.

In Water Overflow

Plans Launched For Barrier At Chester Hazard

Plans were launched this morning to construct a barrier at the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co. parking lot in Chester to help eliminate a hazard created by flooding resulting from a debris - clogged storm sewer.

The action followed Monday night's Council meeting when a warning was issued to the community's parents to caution children against playing in the area.

—:—

COUNCILMAN Kenneth Williams reviewed discussions he and Edwin S. Morse, T.S. & T. executive, had held relative to the matter.

Williams said that in some places the water is several feet deep, representing a danger to children and even to some adults. Emphasizing the problem, he pointed out that at least 12 children were playing at the lot Sunday.

Williams also said there is a manhole, without a cover nearby, which has a drop of some 15 to 18 feet. The legislators speculated that the backing up of the storm sewer may have caused pressure that shoves off the cover.

Street Commissioner Thomas Bowen met with company officials today to make plans for the barrier.

Mayor Harold Ash joined with councilmen in stressing the importance of children and adults avoiding the site until the problem can be remedied.

Councilmen said there is a possibility that responsibility for the clogged sewer could rest with the Penn Central company. The company is scheduled to send representatives to a meeting of Council later this month as the result of a letter sent to G. H. Ellis, division engineer, by Clark Donald Hood relative to railroad crossings, wooden bridges and crossing lights.

A letter from Ellis read last night said that H. E. Richards and E. C. Berkey of the company plan to attend the meeting.

COUNCILMAN William Tuttle said a representative from the state fire marshal's office will inspect several buildings in the city which are looked upon by residents as dangerous.

Williams said that William Williams, a relative, has received notification from the office of Arch Moore concerning corrective measures being planned for a "dump" created on the top of Fairview Rd. Moore's office said that state health officials will be instructed to investiate the situation. Residents have complained of the odor coming from the area.

Councilman Williams also said that repairs on Pan Ave. from 11th St. to the T. K. Roofing Co. are expected to progress within the next 10 days.

A representative from the state auditor's office is now auditing city books, Hood reported. A monthly report will be prepared at the suggestion of the auditor's office and be presented the first meeting of each month. Hood gave the first report during the meeting.

He also pointed out that there are still city residents driving autos with expired license plates. Efforts are being made to apprehend the violators, Mayor Ash said.

After a general discussion, it was decided to delay progress on the street repair program until spring.

Hood said that one family had a donation of $100 to help defray the cost of the street sweeper being purchased by the city. Ash publicly thanked the family and said that any donations, large or small, are welcome.

—:—

POLICE were instructed to patrol the area of California Ave. for large speeding van-type trucks which use the street when they find themselves unable to cross the Chester Bridge because of height or weight limits.

Al Clutter and Don Glass, who supervise an independent football team for city youth, attended the meeting to question Council as to who "owns" the City Park, pointing out that they understood that the area was given to the city by the firemen years ago, with the stipulation that it must be "kept up".

The activities arranged for local youth by the two men involve approximately 110 children in the 9-to-13-year-age bracket, plus 65 adults.

They asked if the football team must ask permission of the Park Commission before using the facility and brought up other problems.

Clutter and Glass pointed out that through their activities they "have helped keep children off the streets and out of trouble, giving them a healthy, safe way to expend energy."

Council will meet with James Jordan, solicitor, and later with the Park Commission relative to the situation.

—:—

LOU LYONS of Lycia Ave. was given permission to open closed alleys and maintain them to enable him to reach his properties.

Mayor Ash thanked the Fire Department for the use of its emergency car while the police cruiser was being repaired.

Robert Laughlin of Indiana Ave. was approved as an extra policeman. He is the lone extra officer able to work daylight shifts, Chief Joseph Cornell explained.

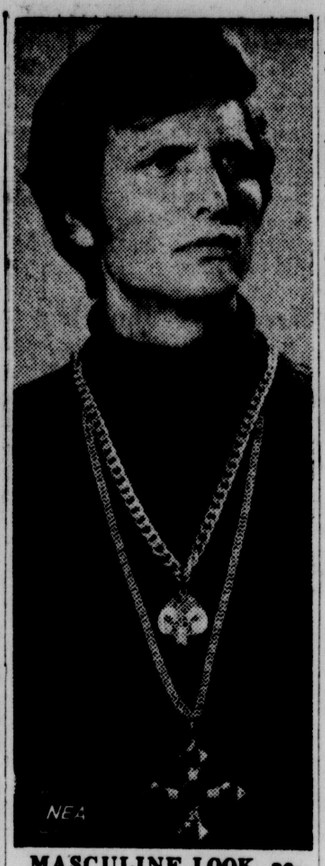

A letter was read from M. R. Hamill of the West Virginia State Road Commission advising Council that the commission "has engaged a consultant to conduct a feasibility study on replacing the Chester Bridge."

"We have," the letter stated, "instructed the consultant to consider at least one new river crossing in the general vicinity of the existing span. You also are advised that it is the intention of the Road Commission to hold a public hearing on any proposed construction before a final decision on a new bridge location is made."

Mayor Ash reminded area residents that the curfew has returned to 10 p.m. now that school has resumed.

Remittances totaled $1,820. Bills paid were $4,362.

Council will meet again Sept. 23 at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall.

The ram's head (shorter chain) is of inlaid Swarovski jet and crystal on antiqued gunmetal. On a longer chain is a gold-colored Maltese Cross with a large simulated ruby in the center.

Meeting Brings No Progress In Ohio U. Dispute

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University officials and trade union leaders met Monday but made no progress toward setling the dispute which has stopped construction work at the new convocation center on the campus.

Representatives of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, Local 1699, claim that the university is employing a nonunion janitorial service at the nearly completed building in contravention of an agreement.

Oscar McGee, Local 1699 president, called the action "illegal."

OU Personnel Director Ward Wilson said Monday: "We are still unable to understand what he dispute is. If there is a dispute it should be handled in an orderly manner through the grievance procedure."

Brown Summons Voting Officials To State Meeting

The Columbiana County Election Board and 87 others throughout Ohio were notified today by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to send at least one representative to a meeting at Columbus Sept. 27 to discuss a federal court order requiring Ohio to provide write-in spaces on its Nov. 5 ballots.

The write-in spaces were required in an order issued more than a week ago by a three-judge court at Dayton, acting on a petition filed on behalf of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, presidential candidate of the American Independent Party. The court did not grant Wallace's bid to have his name printed on the ballots.

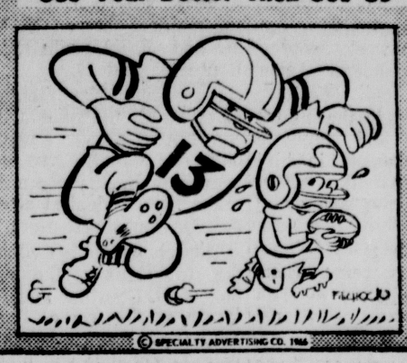

Brown said the Ohio election officials will meet at 9 a. m. in the Ohio Departments Building. He said the meeting should conclude by 2 p.m.

In another development yesterday, U. S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart asked lawyers to draw up a tentative plan to put Gov. Wallace's name on the Ohio ballots. The justice said he will study the proposed timetable and consult other justices before deciding whether to order Ohio to print ballots with Wallace's name on them.

THE RUSSIAN JEWELS

Not too many know of the existence of the Soviet Union's Diamond Fund. This is a fantastic underground depository where some of the most famous diamonds in the world are kept - - The "Orlov", 196 carats; the "Shah," 88.70 carats; "Russian Table Portrait Diamond", in which one can see their own reflection in the 7.5 square centimeter area; the "Maria", 106 carats, and the recently added "Gornyal" of 44 carats.

In addition to these diamonds, there are colored gems including a 412.5 carat spinel of fine color, and the unique 7.0 x 4.7 centimeter chrysolite, the precious trophy brought from Palestine by the Crusaders. There are also impressively large and precious emeralds and the world's largest and most beautiful Ceylonese sapphire. This particular gem is set in a hugh brooch of gold, silver, sapphire, diamonds and roses.

Plans Launched For Barrier At Chester Hazard

Plans were launched this morning to construct a barrier at the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co. parking lot in Chester to help eliminate a hazard created by flooding resulting from a debris - clogged storm sewer.

The action followed Monday night's Council meeting when a warning was issued to the community's parents to caution children against playing in the area.

—:—

COUNCILMAN Kenneth Williams reviewed discussions he and Edwin S. Morse, T.S. & T. executive, had held relative to the matter.

Williams said that in some places the water is several feet deep, representing a danger to children and even to some adults. Emphasizing the problem, he pointed out that at least 12 children were playing at the lot Sunday.

Williams also said there is a manhole, without a cover nearby, which has a drop of some 15 to 18 feet. The legislators speculated that the backing up of the storm sewer may have caused pressure that shoves off the cover.

Street Commissioner Thomas Bowen met with company officials today to make plans for the barrier.

Mayor Harold Ash joined with councilmen in stressing the importance of children and adults avoiding the site until the problem can be remedied.

Councilmen said there is a possibility that responsibility for the clogged sewer could rest with the Penn Central company. The company is scheduled to send representatives to a meeting of Council later this month as the result of a letter sent to G. H. Ellis, division engineer, by Clark Donald Hood relative to railroad crossings, wooden bridges and crossing lights.

A letter from Ellis read last night said that H. E. Richards and E. C. Berkey of the company plan to attend the meeting.

COUNCILMAN William Tuttle said a representative from the state fire marshal's office will inspect several buildings in the city which are looked upon by residents as dangerous.

Williams said that William Williams, a relative, has received notification from the office of Arch Moore concerning corrective measures being planned for a "dump" created on the top of Fairview Rd. Moore's office said that state health officials will be instructed to investiate the situation. Residents have complained of the odor coming from the area.

Councilman Williams also said that repairs on Pan Ave. from 11th St. to the T. K. Roofing Co. are expected to progress within the next 10 days.

A representative from the state auditor's office is now auditing city books, Hood reported. A monthly report will be prepared at the suggestion of the auditor's office and be presented the first meeting of each month. Hood gave the first report during the meeting.

He also pointed out that there are still city residents driving autos with expired license plates. Efforts are being made to apprehend the violators, Mayor Ash said.

After a general discussion, it was decided to delay progress on the street repair program until spring.

Hood said that one family had a donation of $100 to help defray the cost of the street sweeper being purchased by the city. Ash publicly thanked the family and said that any donations, large or small, are welcome.

—:—

POLICE were instructed to patrol the area of California Ave. for large speeding van-type trucks which use the street when they find themselves unable to cross the Chester Bridge because of height or weight limits.

Al Clutter and Don Glass, who supervise an independent football team for city youth, attended the meeting to question Council as to who "owns" the City Park, pointing out that they understood that the area was given to the city by the firemen years ago, with the stipulation that it must be "kept up".

The activities arranged for local youth by the two men involve approximately 110 children in the 9-to-13-year-age bracket, plus 65 adults.

They asked if the football team must ask permission of the Park Commission before using the facility and brought up other problems.

Clutter and Glass pointed out that through their activities they "have helped keep children off the streets and out of trouble, giving them a healthy, safe way to expend energy."

Council will meet with James Jordan, solicitor, and later with the Park Commission relative to the situation.

—:—

LOU LYONS of Lycia Ave. was given permission to open closed alleys and maintain them to enable him to reach his properties.

Mayor Ash thanked the Fire Department for the use of its emergency car while the police cruiser was being repaired.

Robert Laughlin of Indiana Ave. was approved as an extra policeman. He is the lone extra officer able to work daylight shifts, Chief Joseph Cornell explained.

A letter was read from M. R. Hamill of the West Virginia State Road Commission advising Council that the commission "has engaged a consultant to conduct a feasibility study on replacing the Chester Bridge."

"We have," the letter stated, "instructed the consultant to consider at least one new river crossing in the general vicinity of the existing span. You also are advised that it is the intention of the Road Commission to hold a public hearing on any proposed construction before a final decision on a new bridge location is made."

Mayor Ash reminded area residents that the curfew has returned to 10 p.m. now that school has resumed.

Remittances totaled $1,820. Bills paid were $4,362.

Council will meet again Sept. 23 at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall.

MASCULINE LOOK, according to award-winning designers Edward Dunne and Calvin Townsand, is embodied in these two pendants. The ram's head (shorter chain) is of inlaid Swarovski jet and crystal on antiqued gunmetal. On a longer chain is a gold-colored Maltese Cross with a large simulated ruby in the center.

The meeting slated Oct. 7 will be postponed to Oct. 14 because board members and Meredith will attend a bid review at Harrisburg for furniture for the new high school addition.

Meeting Brings No Progress In Ohio U. Dispute

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University officials and trade union leaders met Monday but made no progress toward setling the dispute which has stopped construction work at the new convocation center on the campus.

Representatives of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, Local 1699, claim that the university is employing a nonunion janitorial service at the nearly completed building in contravention of an agreement.

Oscar McGee, Local 1699 president, called the action "illegal."

OU Personnel Director Ward Wilson said Monday: "We are still unable to understand what he dispute is. If there is a dispute it should be handled in an orderly manner through the grievance procedure."

The Local members voted Saturday to picket the building Monday. Craft union members are honoring the picket line.

Stockholders Okay Merger Of 2 Firms

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP) — Stockholders of Stamco, Inc., a manufacturer of metal refinishing machinery, and the Monrach Machine Tool Co. agreed to merge Monday in a deal involving an exchange of stock.

Muskie Pauses Meets Fulbright In Private Talk

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie paused Monday in his Democratic vice presidential campaign for a private meeting with Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., one of the party's strongest critics of the Vietnam war.

Muskie and Fulbright did not appear in public together. No statement was issued following their meeting and a dinner they attended with several state Democratic leaders.

Newsmen glimpsed the two senators together only once, inside a hotel garage where Fulbright, who did not meet Muskie's campaign plane, greeted his Maine colleague.

They shook hands warmly, exchanged pleasantries, and moved inside before the bulk of the press corps following Muskie arrived. Fulbright is campaigning to win re-election agaist his Republica opponet, Charles Bernard.

Asked if he was backing the national Democratic ticket, Fulbright said, "certainly—I always do."

Losing Proposition

VIENNA (AP) — Fifteen months after it was formed, Vienna's women's police force was down to half of its original strength. The girls either got married and left the force or they went on maternity leave, the department reported.

Brown Summons Voting Officials To State Meeting

The Columbiana County Election Board and 87 others throughout Ohio were notified today by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown to send at least one representative to a meeting at Columbus Sept. 27 to discuss a federal court order requiring Ohio to provide write-in spaces on its Nov. 5 ballots.

The write-in spaces were required in an order issued more than a week ago by a three-judge court at Dayton, acting on a petition filed on behalf of Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, presidential candidate of the American Independent Party. The court did not grant Wallace's bid to have his name printed on the ballots.

Brown said the Ohio election officials will meet at 9 a. m. in the Ohio Departments Building. He said the meeting should conclude by 2 p.m.

In another development yesterday, U. S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart asked lawyers to draw up a tentative plan to put Gov. Wallace's name on the Ohio ballots. The justice said he will study the proposed timetable and consult other justices before deciding whether to order Ohio to print ballots with Wallace's name on them.

And Who Else?

SANTE FE, N. M. (AP) — The latest souvenir available in the office of New Mexico Gov. David F. Cargo is a campaign button which reads: "The Governor for Governor." The big bowl of buttons is in the governor's reception office. Cargo, a Republican, seeks reelection this year.

THE RUSSIAN JEWELS

Not too many know of the existence of the Soviet Union's Diamond Fund. This is a fantastic underground depository where some of the most famous diamonds in the world are kept - - The "Orlov", 196 carats; the "Shah," 88.70 carats; "Russian Table Portrait Diamond", in which one can see their own reflection in the 7.5 square centimeter area; the "Maria", 106 carats, and the recently added "Gornyal" of 44 carats.

In addition to these diamonds, there are colored gems including a 412.5 carat spinel of fine color, and the unique 7.0 x 4.7 centimeter chrysolite, the precious trophy brought from Palestine by the Crusaders. There are also impressively large and precious emeralds and the world's largest and most beautiful Ceylonese sapphire. Mayor Issues Proclamation

Lisbon To Hold Cleanup In Preparation For Fete

LISBON — Mayor Clyde B. Pike read to Council Monday night his proclamation of a community cleanup week in preparation for the Johnny Appleseed Festival Sept. 19-21.

As "whereases," the mayor noted "various and numerous organizations engaged in the undertaking," that the village will benefit by the success of the festival and that "thousands of people will be guests."

He requested property owners to begin immediately to get ready for the event which the Johnny Appleseed Festival Association intends to make an annual affair.

AT THE request of Robert McNally, representing the association, council voted to pay $125 toward the cost of police protection during the festival.

McNally and Chief of Police Leon T. Zahrndt estimated the total cost will be approximately $250, including the parade Thursday night, patrolmen Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights to protect exhibitors' property and a policeman in charge of the fairgrounds from 6 to midnight Friday and Saturday.

Councilman Ray Beers of the street committee recommended that Clarence Trotter's request for a four - way stop at the intersection of W. Washington St. and S. Lincoln Ave. be refused.

The intersection is a three-way stop now, with westbound Washington St. traffic having the right-of-way. Route 164 travels S. Washington and S. Lincoln from Washington south.

Beers said it is not feasible to put a stop sign on the east side of Washington because vehicles heeding it would be in the turning radius of trucks turning east from Lincoln onto Washington.

Council voted to accept Beers' recommendation that crosswalks be painted at the three stop signs at the intersection.

—:—

COUNCIL also voted unanimously to accept the committee's recommendation for discouraging through traffic from using E. Chestnut St. to avoid the traffic lights on N. Market St. and E. Lincoln Way — Routes 45 and 30.

Since Council last month voted to make E. Chestnut and Pritchard Ave. a four - way stop, only one change was deemed necessary by the committee to make the residential street unpopular for shortcutters.

This change is a switching of the stop signs at the intersection of E. Chestnut and N. Jefferson at the foot of Dug Hill. N. Jefferson stops for Chestnut now. The change will make Jefferson the through street.

Beers said this should discourage through traffic on Chestnut. He said eastbound traffic now will have to stop at Jefferson, Pritchard and Lincon Way before getting back on the highway, while northbound cars will have to stop at Chestnut, Jefferson and N. Market.

Peter Geiger, E. Chestnut St. resident, advocated another stop sign at the Harrison St. junction to protect children against speeders taking advantage of the long stretch between Jefferson St. and Pritchard Ave.

—:—

BEERS said the committee considered that, but believes the stops at Jefferson and Pritchard will take care of this through-traffic problem. He said he conferred with Supt. of Schools Joe W. Driscoll about the arrangement, since McKinley School is at the Pritchard - Chestnut intersection.

Street Commissioner Thirl Flugan reported the four - way stop signs have arrived and will be installed immediately.

Charles Webber, chairman of Council's fire committee, said he plans to meet soon with Center and Elkrun Township trustees to decide on lengths and sizes of fire hose needed. Bids were opened at Council's Aug. 26 meeting.

Councilman Bill Robinson reported that the contractor refilling cuts across W. Chestnut St. is not following specifications for fill, concrete pad and new surface. Mayor Pike said he will contact William Hochradel, district manager of Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., by whom the contractor is employed.

The Jaycees who have strung the town's Christmas lights for several years will not do it again this year, Councilman Willis Coleman, a Jaycee, told the mayor and Council last night. He said the organization will continue to sponsor the annual Santa Claus parade usually held the last Saturday in November.

LARRY EVANS, councilman, said County Engineer John Ursu told him the County Highway Department will resurface Firestone Hill (Thomas Rd.) by the end of this week.

Council passed an ordinance to pay City Asphalt & Paving of Youngstown $4,576 for resurfacing Pritchard Ave. and Exchange Sts. Councilmen noted that the Ohio Edison Co. has not removed its pole in the paved portion of Exchange next to the curbing. City Asphalt blacktopped around the pole because the utility was strikebound when the work was done. Councilmen said they still are waiting for Ohio Edison to install a security light ordered several weeks ago for the alley at the rear of the County Jail.

Federal Jury Probe Set In Chicago Strife

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal grand jury investigation of demonstrations, police action and news coverage during the Democratic National Convention has been ordered by Chief Judge William J. Campbell of U.S. District Court.

Judye Campbell on Monday ordered the September grand jury to investigate alleged violations of federal statutes during the convention.

Thomas A. Foran, U.S. district attorney, already had started an investigation, and Judge Campbell ordered him to turn over to the grand jury all information he has accumulated thus far.

"Only the federal grand jury has the total responsibility under our Constitution to hold such a probe," Judge Campbell told the jurors.

"Purely on the information I have read in the press, I find that various people are accused of interstate conspiracy to promote a riot in violation of federal law," he said.

"A second category of charges has been made whereby police officers are accused of violating civil rights of demonstrators in performing duties in quelling riots and returning order," Campbell added.

He said the investigation also would look into possible violation of the federal communications statute by some television networks which he said were accused of engaging in interstate conspiracy to unduly influence the convention by television.

The jury also was directed to investigate charges that a television network, NBC, bugged a closed hearing of the Democratic convention platform committee.

Since Council last month voted to make E. Chestnut and Pritchard Ave. a four - way stop, only one change was deemed necessary by the committee to make the residential street unpopular for shortcutters.

This change is a switching of the stop signs at the intersection of E. Chestnut and N. Jefferson at the foot of Dug Hill. N. Jefferson stops for Chestnut now. The change will make Jefferson the through street.

Beers said this should discourage through traffic on Chestnut. He said eastbound traffic now will have to stop at Jefferson, Pritchard and Lincon Way before getting back on the highway, while northbound cars will have to stop at Chestnut, Jefferson and N. Market.

Peter Geiger, E. Chestnut St. resident, advocated another stop sign at the Harrison St. junction to protect children against speeders taking advantage of the long stretch between Jefferson St. and Pritchard Ave.

—:—

BEERS said the committee considered that, but believes the stops at Jefferson and Pritchard will take care of this through-traffic problem. He said he conferred with Supt. of Schools Joe W. Driscoll about the arrangement, since McKinley School is at the Pritchard - Chestnut intersection.

Street Commissioner Thirl Flugan reported the four - way stop signs have arrived and will be installed immediately.

Charles Webber, chairman of Council's fire committee, said he plans to meet soon with Center and Elkrun Township trustees to decide on lengths and sizes of fire hose needed. Bids were opened at Council's Aug. 26 meeting.

Councilman Bill Robinson reported that the contractor refilling cuts across W. Chestnut St. is not following specifications for fill, concrete pad and new surface. Mayor Pike said he will contact William Hochradel, district manager of Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., by whom the contractor is employed.

The Jaycees who have strung the town's Christmas lights for several years will not do it again this year, Councilman Willis Coleman, a Jaycee, told the mayor and Council last night. He said the organization will continue to sponsor the annual Santa Claus parade usually held the last Saturday in November.

LARRY EVANS, councilman, said County Engineer John Ursu told him the County Highway Department will resurface Firestone Hill (Thomas Rd.) by the end of this week.

Council passed an ordinance to pay City Asphalt & Paving of Youngstown $4,576 for resurfacing Pritchard Ave. and Exchange Sts. Councilmen noted that the Ohio Edison Co. has not removed its pole in the paved portion of Exchange next to the curbing. City Asphalt blacktopped around the pole because the utility was strikebound when the work was done. Councilmen said they still are waiting for Ohio Edison to install a security light ordered several weeks ago for the alley at the rear of the County Jail.

Federal Jury Probe Set In Chicago Strife

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal grand jury investigation of demonstrations, police action and news coverage during the Democratic National Convention has been ordered by Chief Judge William J. Campbell of U.S. District Court.

Judge Campbell on Monday ordered the September grand jury to investigate alleged violations of federal statutes during the convention.

Thomas A. Foran, U.S. district attorney, already had started an investigation, and Judge Campbell ordered him to turn over to the grand jury all information he has accumulated thus far.

"Only the federal grand jury has the total responsibility under our Constitution to hold such a probe," Judge Campbell told the jurors.

"Purely on the information I have read in the press, I find that various people are accused of interstate conspiracy to promote a riot in violation of federal law," he said.

"A second category of charges has been made whereby police officers are accused of violating civil rights of demonstrators in performing duties in quelling riots and returning order," Campbell added.

He said the investigation also would look into possible violation of the federal communications statute by some television networks which he said were accused of engaging in interstate conspiracy to unduly influence the convention by television.

The jury also was directed to investigate charges that a television network, NBC, bugged a closed hearing of the Democratic convention platform committee.

Hospital Uses New SMA

Blood Gets 12-Way Test

By LUCILLE HUSTON

A new blood testing machine, called the SMA 12-60, has been put into use at City Hospital, marking a considerable broadening of lab services offered residents of the tri-state area by the hospital.

This automatic blood analyzer will test one "thimbleful" of blood of a patient and give 12 readings in just one minute—a test for every five seconds.

Some of the more common tests are total protein, albumin, calcium, uric acid, glucose, cholesterol and globulin.

Dr. R. C. Costello, director of the clinical laboratory at the hospital said the machine is the 226th one of its kind to be put into operation in the nation. Considering that there are over 7,000 hospitals in the United States, Dr. Costello feels this is quite an achievement for East Liverpool. The next nearest machine is at Pittsburgh's Shadyside Hospital.

—:—

"THE MACHINE" Dr. Costello said, "has been on order since last November. It will serve many purposes and greatly improve service offered City Hospital patients."

Every patient admitted to the hospital over 14 years old will automatically have a SMA 12-60 series test. Patients under 14 years will have them on request. One of the greatest uses of the new machine will be detecting diseases that were not ordinarily found by the older type tests.

A typical case may be that of a robust fellow, never sick a day in his life, who drops dead from a heart attack. His obituary reports he died suddenly, but his blood chemistry would have shown that he had been slowly dying. Another example is the case of a woman admitted to the hospital with a broken hip. The automatic test would have revealed she had diabetes.

Another factor is the shortening of the stay in the hospital on the average of from one to two days for each patient.

"In the past," Dale Gadd, chief technologist at the laboratory, said, "a person would be admitted to the hospital, and the doctor in trying to pinpoint the illness would order a certain test run. If the first test did not show what he suspected, another would be ordered. This could go on for days. With the auto-analyzer, all of these tests are run within 24 hours after the patient enters the hospital, resulting in a shorter stay."

Still a third result is the reduced expense to the patient. The cost will run from 70 to 80 per cent less for the series of tests than previously.

"LABORATORY technicians are at a premium," Dr. Costello pointed out. "This machine will relieve those we have for other duties, thus again resulting in a savings for the hospital, and added service to the patients

Gadd said, "we estimate anywhere from 300 to 350 tests will be run daily here in the lab. This means approximately 25 profiles or tests of 25 patients." In the past the lab has handled only 50 to 75 daily. In 1967, the laboratory handled 100,000 samples. They expect to do anywhere from 40,000 to 50,000 more with the auto-analyzer. Dr. Costello added, "This volume of business will be something like a supermarket—more business—less cost per unit."

"When one of these machines was installed in a Veterans Administration hospital," Dr. Costello said, "reports showed 3 per cent of the patients were discovered to have abnormalities serious enough to require treatment These ailments had not been discovered in the individual testing that had previously been done."

"This is like preventive medicine," he said. "The disease is found before it gets out of hand. It is something like the routine chest X-ray, electrocardiograms and Pap tests that have become common preventive tests."

—:—

THE MACHINE is also more accurate than individual "by hand" tests. Results are recorded on a chart, and the machine has its own unique way of telling if there is something wrong with the test. Each of the 12 tests is recorded in a certain column on the chart by a straight line across the designated column. If this line should be zig-zag or crooked, there has been a malfunction and the operator will detect this immediately and take remedial measures. The possibility of "human error" is virtually ruled out.

Dr. Costello added that being able to cut down the length of stay for each patient will also aid the hospital by freeing more beds. He says all hospitals have the ever increasing need for more beds, and a shorter stay per patient will alleviate this condition.

The lab staff is greatly pleased with the new SMA (Sequential Multiple Analyses) machine, and Miss Nell Robbinson, hospital superintendent, added, "We are very proud of our new 'child.' "

Elmore Tax Evasion Trial To Continue

BLUEFIELD (AP)—The prosecution was expected to begin testimony in the federal income tax evasion trial of former West Virginia liquor commissioner Clarence Elmore today with the introduction of the first of a long list of witnesses.

In his opening statement Monday federal attorney Sam L. Strother said the prosecution has evidence that Elmore received "cash payoffs" from distillery representatives for listing certain brands in state liquor stores and to have liquor store employes push certain brands.

Strother said the government also would prove Elmore required liquor manufacturers' representatives to hire his friends, "including a very close feminine acquaintance of his," though those hired "never did actually perform any services."

"This was the price they had to pay to do business with the state of West Virginia," Strother said.

Robert G. Perry of Charleston, one of four defene attorneys, said they would prove Elmore did not commit fraud when he filed income tax returns for 1962 and 1963.

Elmore is accused of evading payment of more than $5,700 in federal income taxes for the two years.

Perry said the defense was surprised at the allegations of "cash payoffs." He added Elmore's attorneys would try to prove his financial affairs were "pretty much what you could expect from a man in his position."

Elmore Tax Evasion Trial To Continue

BLUEFIELD (AP)—The prosecution was expected to begin testimony in the federal income tax evasion trial of former West Virginia liquor commissioner Clarence Elmore today with the introduction of the first of a long list of witnesses.

In his opening statement Monday federal attorney Sam L. Strother said the prosecution has evidence that Elmore received "cash payoffs" from distillery representatives for listing certain brands in state liquor stores and to have liquor store employes push certain brands.

Strother said the government also would prove Elmore required liquor manufacturers' representatives to hire his friends, "including a very close feminine acquaintance of his," though those hired "never did actually perform any services."

"This was the price they had to pay to do business with the state of West Virginia," Strother said.

Robert G. Perry of Charleston, one of four defene attorneys, said they would prove Elmore did not commit fraud when he filed income tax returns for 1962 and 1963.

Elmore is accused of evading payment of more than $5,700 in federal income taxes for the two years.

Perry said the defense was surprised at the allegations of "cash payoffs." He added Elmore's attorneys would try to prove his financial affairs were "pretty much what you could expect from a man in his position."

Young Opposes Stuplinski As U.S. Attorney

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young opposes the permanent appointment of Bernard J. Stuplinski as U.S. attorney here and has said so in a letter to Washington.

The Ohio Department has sent a letter to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark criticizing Stuplinski and stating he "would oppose confirmation of Mr. Stuplinski" if nominated by President Johnson.

Young wrote to Clark last week:

"Five of the seven U.S. district judges in Cleveland informed me that Stuplinski has not tried any cases in their courtrooms and that he does not even sit at the trial table with the young assistants who do all the trial work."

Stuplinski replied Monday:

"We haven't had any trials all summer. I finished up the spring season June 24 with a conviction on a difficult case. I don't know what else he (Young) wants."

Young said in his letter he would recommend "an able and experienced trial lawyer" for the post.

Stuplinski, 41, has held the $26,000-a-year job as an interim appointee since May 21.

Mine Brings Water Crisis At Salineville

SALINEVILLE—Residents of the community have been requested to conserve water as much as possible while efforts are being made to solve a mine drainage problem in the water source.

The Board of Public Affairs plans to meet with Council Wednesday night concerning the water problem created by drainage into Yellow Creek from an abandoned strip mine operation in Carroll County.

The water department has been utilizing for several weeks primarily the water stored in the reservoir, but the reservoir supply has been depleted to a large extent.

Authorities point out the community faces the necessity of either locating a new water source, such as wells, or providing a greatly enlarged treatment process which would be expensive.

Officials report they have consulted with local and state health authorities and the Department of Natural Resources, but there seems to be no immediate solution to the drainage problem.

Meanwhile, residents are requested to use as little water as possible, so the current reservoir supply is maintained or even increased with the current rain.

At a meeting of the board Monday night, bills totaling $910 were paid.

The 37-year-old Marcus, son-in-law of former Connecticut Gov. John Davis Lodge, stood mute in federal court Monday as Judge Edward Weinfeld pronounced sentence. He begins his jail term on Friday.

There are Guess Ranges...and...there are GAS RANGES and it doesn't take a Ph.D. in home ec. to tell the difference.

You can spot the difference the moment you turn on a burner. With a Gas range you get heat. Instantly. When you turn off the burner, the heat is gone. Instantly. No hangover heat . . . no guesswork. 1001 shades of precise heat offer you complete cooking control. No guess work. Only a modern Gas range offers so many automatic cooking conveniences. No guesswork. A Gas range is quick, clean, dependable and attractive. One thing a Gas range isn't . . . it isn't a guess range. That's for sure.

THINK OF ALL THE THINGS YOU CAN DO WITH THE MONEY YOU SAVE WITH GAS.

School Officials Tackle 'Opening Day' Problems

East Liverpool's new multi-million dollar school complex was in its second day of use today with students, teachers and administrators adapting to the changes in operations despite some inconveniences.

Authorities reported cafeteria equipment still not delivered, other furniture and items not yet arrived and electrical installation not yet accomplished at the East Elementary School.

School Supt. Paul Blair said he and Robert Beatty, school architect, conferred Monday night until 10 reviewing and checking what equipment has not yet arrived in hopes of speeding up completion of the new education project.

School was to have started Sept. 4, but was delayed until Monday because of the equipment and construction problems.

A one - week strike of school custodians in August prevented delivery of some items during that period. A current strike of Ohio Power Co. employes has held up the power hookup at the East End school.

Tables for the high school cafeteria are still not in, some of the seats and desks have not arrived, and furniture is still short in the commercial department. Supt. Blair said folding chairs are being utilized in the classrooms, and although desks are lacking, every student does have a seat.

Teacher's lectures are also among furniture which is "absent." "Out of the total order, only ten have arrived," he said.

East Elementary is still without electricity because no transformers have been installed. Principal Mrs. Ruth Armstrong said that although the situation "is not the best, the lighting is fairly good." Students are being directed to classes and dismissed with the aid of the loud speaker system.

As is the case ever fall term but more so this year with the new bus routes, there are some changes that have to be made. "Some of the buses are overcrowded at this point," Blair said. "The Ohio Highway Patrol is aware of the situation and is allowing time for the routes to be revised."

A mix-up in football practice was also the result of a bus situation, Supt. Blair reported. An apparent oversight occurred when a bus was not requisitioned to transport the players to the football field. Football practice will be held today, however, and a bus will be available for transportation following the dismissal of school.

The parking situation at the high school site is creating a problem. Students have been asked not to drive to school. They will not be allowed to park in the school parking lot, and the East Liverpool Police Department has asked that they not park on McKinnon St. Signs are being erected banning parking on some of these streets.

Supt. Blair added that the drives at the school will be made one way, and signs will be erected as soon as possible. Plans now call for autos to approach by the drive near the Trinity Presbyterian Church, and to leave by the lower Maine Blvd. route.

Some of the tile in the library at LaCroft was loose when checked last week, but it has been relaid, Supt. Blair said.

He reported an industrial drafting teacher is still needed, and added the resignation of Ray Goodman was received in the mail last Friday. Goodman accepted a position in Philadelphia, and an opening now exists for a mechanical drawing instructor.

Reports that some of the high school students did not get dismissed for lunch are being checked out. Alton Dobson, principal, said a large portion of the day was used in making adjustments in individual schedules, and he was not aware that a lunch problem existed.

However, he said, many of these things that are completely new to the students and teachers as well will be ironed out as soon as possible.

Official Alleges Zoning Violation

In the first case of its kind filed in Municipal Court, a Klondyke man is accused of changing the purpose for which an East End business building is used without first obtaining a zoning certificate.

Marvin Wooley, building and zoning inspector, filed the charge against Bert Willison of 1808 Harvey Ave., alleging the violation in connection with property at 1646 Pennsylvania Ave. The affidavit alleges that Willison changed the use of the property from R-3 (medium high density residential) to B-1 (neighborhood business) without official authority.

Willison, arraigned today before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, was granted a continuance until Sept. 26. He said he already has applied to the City Planning Commission for a zoning change and "as far as I know, I complied with the law."

Solicitor J. Michael Kapp told the court Willison sought to rent part of the building for a beauty shop operation. He alleged the shop was operating before the zoning change was granted. The balance of the building is used as a wholesale grocery warehouse.

Nixon

Advisers cite figures they say show the GOP has been making steady gains over the past few years.

But in Louisiana, they say it will be difficult for Nixon to duplicate the feat of Dwight D. Eisenhower, who carried the heavily Democratic state in 1956, and Goldwater, who did it eight years later.

One Nixon aide said that in North Carolina, "the Wallace vote will be strong, how strong we don't know."

But he cited what the Nixon camp considers the strong governorship campaign of Republican Rep. James Gardner and steady GOP gains in registration to bolster the Nixon cause.

In Louisiana, Nixon aides said a weak Republican organization will hurt the campaign, but they said they are counting on Louisiana Democrats to break their ranks once again and help Nixon carry the state.

Nixon's Midwest stops will include Indianapolis, Ind.; Des Moines, Iowa; Cleveland, Ohio, and then Santa Barbara, Calif., on Saturday, before traveling eastward again.

Wyoming, which has some two million sheep, is second only to the state of Texas in the production of wool.

ANN LANDERS

No Advice For Hurt Wife

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Please excuse the looks of this letter. I can't see very well. One of my eyes is completely shut. The other is a little swollen.

I married Mickey after a whirlwind courtship of seven weeks. He seemed like a perfect gentleman. I could hardly believe it when he knocked out my pivot tooth and blackened my eyes because there was no beer in the refrigerator. (He drank five bottles last night and I didn't realize we were out.)

Mickey loses his temper over little things like not being able to find his jacket. He insists I "hid" it and then I get a call from a tavern keeper saying Mickey left his jacket there last night when he stopped for a drink on his way home.

This is the third time he's beaten me up and I don't know what to do about it. Please don't tell me to leave him. He's really a swell guy except for this one fault. Also, Ann, I think I should tell you he's my third husband and the best of the lot. — BLURRED VISION.

-:-

Dear Blurred: So he's the best of the lot? Where do you find such dolls? You've already told me not to tell you to leave him, so I'll respect your wishes and tell you something else. Stay with him until he scrambles your brains and knocks out all your teeth. Perhaps then you'll ask me for some advice you can use instead of telling me what not to tell you.

Be Truthful

Dear Ann: Last month my husband took a fatal overdose of sleeping pills. I knew he was despondent over a business failure and that his health was a worry to him but I had no idea he'd kill himself.

What shall I tell the children? They are 4 and 5 years of age. Explaining natural death to youngsters is difficult enough, but how does one explain suicide? I want to tell them that Daddy was very sick and God took him to a home in heaven where we'll all meet one day.

My mother insists that I tell them the truth. She claims they'll hear the real story from playmates when they get older and then I'll have serious trouble because they'll find out I lied.

I've thought about this until I'm half crazy. I just can't tell my children their daddy didn't want to live anymore. Please, Ann, I need some of your wisdom. — ANGUISHED MOTHER.

-:-

Dear Mother: This is your decision to make, not your mother's. Tell the children Daddy took the wrong medicine and it made him so sick he could not get well so God took him to heaven. It is best that children believe a parent's suicide was accidental whenever possible. Good luck and chin up, Dear.

Meeting Manners

Dear Ann: Please settle an argument. When a man and a woman meet on the street who should speak first? The people in question are not close friends, but they have worked together and know each other. — BRANDY.

—:—

Dear Brandy: When friends, the one who recognizes the other first should speak first.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

College Courses Draw Near For Social Security Worker

Miss Yvonne Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cuba Martin of 14th St., Wellsville, a 1968 graduate of Wellsville High School, will leave Sept. 21 for Bowling Green University, where she will begin her freshman studies Sept. 25.

She will major in history and political science and minor in library science.

During the summer, Miss Martin has served as a receptionist at the Social Security office here, winding up her duties Friday.

She is one of many young people employed at social security offices around the country under the Youth Opportunity Campaign launched by President Johnson in 1965. The program seeks to provide meaningful jobs to 16-to-21-year-olds in order to enable them to remain in school.

"I was a lucky one," Miss Martin said, "since two weeks after graduation, I began to work at the local office. Although I received scholarships to assist in paying the high costs of college, the money I made was certainly greatly needed."

Miss Martin provided "valuable assistance" to the office, according to Robert Harris, district manager. "Her friendly manner and competent handling of her duties have made the visit to the social security office a pleasant one for hundreds of people," he said.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jack Delaney recently told of a business executive who informed his new secretary that he was going to Lexington for the Bluegrass Stakes. The secretary, certainly no race horse fan, asked: "Why, are they better than T-bone steaks?"

Court Expected To Order Wallace Name On Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Monday he expects U.S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart to order George C. Wallace's name printed on the Ohio ballots for the Nov. 5 presidential election.

Brown said he expected Stewart to take this course because it would be easier to take Wallace's name off the ballot if the Supreme Court found against him in October, than it would be to insert his name if the court found in his favor.

Stewart asked lawyers in Washington to draw up a plan Monday for putting Wallace's name on the ballot. His ruling on whether the name should be printed provisionally, subject to the full hearing, is expected by mid-week.

At a Washington hearing Monday morning Stewart asked David J. Young of Columbus, an attorney for Wallace supporters, and Charles S. Lopeman, chief counsel in the Ohio attorney general's office, to prepare a timetable to show how long it would take for the state to carry out an order by him or by the full court.

The court goes back into session next month.

Stewart said the case would not be decided before mid-October.

If a motorist were to drive over all the toll roads, across all the toll bridges and through all the toll tunnels in the United States, he would pay a total of $164.90 in tolls.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

A Hard Water Problem

DEAR MOMMIES: Know those darling little kiddie pools that are so inexpensive?

When they spring a leak — or the hard plastic cracks — DON'T discard them. They make the most wonderful sandboxes imaginable!

Heloise

They are easy to move around because they're small.

Another good thing about them is, when it gets too bad to play outside, that sandbox can be moved into the garage or put on the porch. And in winter, it can be brought down into the basement so they can play the year round.

Whoever said a sandbox was just for summer fun?

And what little kiddo doesn't love his sandbox?

Even if you don't want a wading pool, keep in mind they make great sand containers.

HELOISE.

P.S. Sacks of sand can be bought at lumber yards and garden shops.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a double bed with the box springs and mattress covered with a rayon and satin material. It is beautiful, but I can't keep the mattress even with the box springs. It slides either from top to bottom or aide to side.

Could you suggest something to put between the mattress and box springs to keep it where it belongs?

MRS. G. A. FAGLEY.

-:-

Yess, doll, think I can.

It's tiring to continually be pushing and pulling that mattress so it is in line with the box springs.

I suggest you buy a thin sheet of foam rubber and put it between your mattress and box spring.

It's not absolutely necessary for the foam rubber to b as big as the entire bed, but it should cover at least half of the box spring.

The sheets of foam rubber can be found in most large department stores or can be ordered from mail order stores.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Regarding that "Letter of Laughter" from the housewife who found other women's untidiness to be an inspiration for her to go home and clean up her own . . .

I've suspected for years that I am one of those women!

But now I have the perfect alibi for which I have been searching so long.

Gee, it sure feels good to be the source of somebody's inspiration!

JEAN, THE BEAN.

DEAR HELOISE: When typing letters that require blind carbon copies to be sent, don't remove the original letter and then type the names of those who are to receive the blind carbons. Just leave all copies in your typewriter.

Put a small slip of paper in front of the original and then type away. The names will show up on all the carbons, but there will be NO imprint on the original — just on the little slip of paper you have inserted.

This little trick has saved me many valuable minutes.

TINA RAMACCIOTTI.

DEAR HELOISE: I always have a sore finger when knitting and get cuts on my forefinger from pushing off the stitches.

I've found that a rubber finger cover (such as bookkeepers use) on my forefinger, prevents this. Much better than a thimble too. No more sore finger for me.

MRS. JENNIE DOUGLAS.

DEAR HELOISE: When we travel, I always carry several of those plastic clothes-bags from the cleaners to protect my nightly washing from rusting on wire hangers.

In damp climates, hangers are often rusty. So I put a plastic bag over them before hanging up the laundry.

Houston Rally Falls Short, Kansas City Wins 26-21

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference, which includes most schools in the East, breaks down the football teams in their area into three groupings.

The winners of the three groupings, at the end of the season, receive the Lambert Trophy, the Lambert Cup and the Lambert Bowl. Nationwide, college football teams are classified as major and minor, with the Football Writers Association of America doing the job. A team is considered to be major if more than half its opponents are major. East Carolina is a team that has come up from the minor to the major ranks in the last few years.

There has been some agitation to divide all the country's football teams into three groupings. It is argued that players from leagues like the Mid-American Conference or the Southern Conference or the Ivy League, all classed major, should not be rated with players from conference like the Big 10, Southeastern Conference or Southwestern Conference. Likewise, it is argued that small schools like Amherst, West Chester or Fairmont St., all of which play good football, should not have to compete with bigger schools like San Diego State and Southern Illinois, which are still classed minor.

The ECAC divisions are on a smaller scale, as their top division includes some pretty weak teams, like Rhode Island; and Amherst is in the second division.

The ECAC teams have recruited few players from Columbiana County, with Dick Keller, a junior defensive back from Columbiana at Delaware, the only one coming to light this season.

Columbia has Midland's Tony Ciccone, a junior tackle, and Ham McGregor of Youngstown. Buffalo U. has Bob Kovey of Youngstown and Pat Patterson of Ambridge, Colgate has Bob Bisceglia of Austintown, Princeton has Dave Miller and James Tkacik of Beaver Falls, Rutgers has Gary Fisher of Toronto and Syracuse has Mike Chlebeck of Louisville and Paul Paolisso of Weirton.

Bucknell has Rich Caputo of Beaver Falls, Lafayette has Dennis Laich of Monaca, Lehign has Charles Lieb of Beaver, Kings Point has Don Hanni of Youngstown, Lycoming has Bill DeHass of Beaver and Art Washington of Quaker Valley and Susquehanna has Joe Dambrocia of New Castle.

RUMOR HAS IT that the Indians will acquire Mike Hershberger and Dick Green of Oakland in a three-cornered deal that would send Duke Simms to the Red Sox and George Scott of Boston to Oakland. Hershberger, an excellent outfielder who usually hits for a high average, would fit into the speedy Indian cast, while Green, a good infielder who has had some good seasons with the stick, also would help, especially if Larry Brown goes in the expansion draft, another rumor.

PURDUE IS the narrow choice over Southern Cal to win the collegiate footballs championship this fall, according to an AP poll. Notre Dame ranks third. Penn State is picked eighth, Ohio State 11th. Ohio U. also received some votes.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Don Herron, out most of last season due to an injury, is set at a tackle position on the Kenyon grid team. Herron, a 6-0, 210 sophomore, played enough last year to get a letter. He was used at guard in 1967.

ONE OF THREE veteran running backs on the Ashland grid squad is Jim Parker of East Palestine. The Eagles went unbeaten in 1967. A starting cornerback on the defensive platoon is Paul Baucom of Alliance.

Pro Extra-Point Play Stirs Controversy

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pro Football's Press Point Experiment has had its run—and proved its point.

There no longer is any doubt that it is easier to kick a conversion than add on a point-after-touchdown by passing or running from the two-yard line.

And by proving that point, the experiment has opened the door to a small controversy in which players, coaches and owners are beginning to line up with for or against the rule, basically along similar lines.

Those in favor of the rule feel it adds excitment to the game and is a device that will eliminate ties. Those opposed to the rule feel it adds danger to an already dangerous profession and that it cheapens the touchdown

The rule was adopted by the American and National football leagues for use in interleague exhibition games and abolished the traditional conversion kick, making it mandatory that teams either pass or run from the two-vard line to get their extra point.

The point was simple: The conversion kick was becoming too automatic, with AFL and NFL kickers succeeding about 98 per cent of the time, and consequently a dull play.

With the Pressure Point in use during the 23 exhibition games, there were 97 extra-point attempts by running or passing, 55 successful and 42 that failed —or 56.6 per cent made.

Breaking that down further: Of the 97 attempts, 62 were by passing and 35 by running, with the average for success just about the same. Of the passing attempts, 35 were successful, 27 failed—for 56 5 per cent. Of the running attempts, 20 were successful, 15 failed—for 57.1 per cent

And that's where it all stands now. For the regular season, all experiments are off, with the AFL and NFL using their existing rules

But there's little doubt that this experiment will get more laboratory time in the future. That's as certain as the conversion kick is automatic.

Jim Taylor To Retire From Saints

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jim Taylor hangs up No. 31 for good today. The Associated Press has learned that he plans to announce his retirement from pro football.

A 10 a.m., CDT, news conference was scheduled to the general offices of the New Orleans Saints for Taylor to make his announcement.

He'll be 33 in 10 more days. Behind Taylor are 10 years of glory and records in the National Football League.

Taylor, however, is not stepping out willingly. He insisted to the last that he's every bit as quick, every bit as fast as he was in the 1960 through 1965 seasons, each of which saw him rush for more than 1,000 yards —a record.

After a talk with Saints' owner John W. Mecom Jr. and General Manager Vic Schwenk on Monday, Taylor bowed to the inevitable.

Stenerud's FGs Prove Decisive

HOUSTON (AP) — Jan Stenerud kicked four field goals and the Kansas City Chiefs won their American Football League opener from the Oilers Monday night.

The victory was achieved, however, only after the Chiefs halted a fourth-quarter Houston uprising, led by quarterback Pete Beathard.

The Chiefs won 26-21 but saw Beathard cut a 19-point Houston deficit with two touchdown passes while missing two others.

Stenerud booted fourth period field goals of 33, 26 and 32 yards to contribute to Kansas City's 26-7 lead.

Houston, held to only 29 yards rushing the first two quarters, caught fire with 11 minutes left in the game. Beathard passed on practically every down, connecting with Sid Blanks, Ode Burrell and Mac Haik.

Beathard completed 23 of 48 passes for 412 yards. The Oilers gained only 55 yards on the ground.

The Chiefs gained 204 rushing with Mike Garrett picking up 53 yards in eight attempts. Len Dawson completed 10 of 18 passes for 73 yards.

National Football League teams, meanwhile, completed the job of trimming their rosters to the 40 players allowed when the season opens this weekend.

Most prominent among those cut was defensive back Ross Fichtner, signed as a free agent by New Orleans after being dropped by Cleveland in the wake of a racial incident.

Fichtner, who is white, was a starting safetyman for the Browns until they dropped him and guard John Wooten. The moves stemmed from a golf tournament arranged by Fichtner to which the Browns' Negro players were not invited. Wooten is now with Washington.

Paul Flately, the NFL's rookie of the year in 1963 when he caught 51 passes for Minnesota, was among four players released by the Vikings. The Green Bay Packers placed Ben Wilson, leading rusher in the Super Bowl, on the injured waiver list.

Dodgers Whip Cards

Pirates Get 4 In Ninth, Lose To Phils 8-7 In 15th

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

George Stone welcomed cousin Cecil Upshaw with open arms and Upshaw turned out to be the perfect relative. But not everyone has such relations.

Larry Jaster, for example, usually has a smashing time with his Los Angeles Dodger cousins, but when he put out his arms to them Monday night, they kicked him out of his own house.

Everyone was barely seated in Busch Memorial Stadium when the normally quiet Dodgers drove Jaster out with eight runs in the second inning, and went on to wipe out the St. Louis Cardinals 10-1.

It was only their second victory in nine decisions against Jaster, who shut them out a record five straight times in 1966.

But for Stone and Upshaw . . . well, they had as good a time as they did last Monday when Upshaw came in and saved a victory for Stone and the Atlanta Braves.

This time, the Braves beat San Francisco 2-1 as Upshaw rescued Stone by putting out two unwelcome hitters in the ninth inning.

Elsehwere in the National League, Clay Dalrymple's two-run single sent Pittsburgh away mad as Philadelphia topped the Pirates 8-7 in 15 innings.

Houston was rained out of a twi-light doubleheader at Cincinnati in the only other games scheduled. The Astros led 3-0 after four innings when the rains came.

Rookie Bill Sudakis, who wasn't around when Jaster was having his laughs with the Dodgers, was the rudest Dodger, turning the game into a rout after Jaster was gone. He climaxed the big noise in the second with the first grand slam homer of his career, off reliever Dick Hughes.

With Jaster still around, Paul Popovich had singled home two runs and Wes Parker doubled for two more.

Taking advantage of all this was Don Sutton, who cut down the Cardinals on six hits to run his record to 8-14. Jaster, who was 2-0 against the Dodgers this season, fell to 9-12.

The victory was the sixth in seven starts for Los Angeles and helped them past the idle New York Mets and out of the league cellar. The loss, on the other hand, was not all that bad for St. Louis, which still lowered its magic number for clinching the pennant to six as the second place Giants lost.

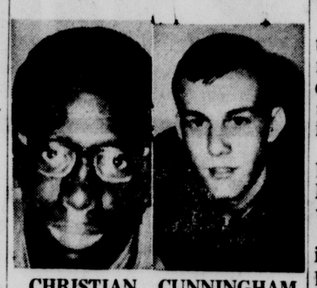

Rookie Stone took care of the Giants with a four-hitter until he welcomed Upshaw with tired arm with one out and one on in the ninth inning. Upshaw responded by striking out Jim Hart and Dick Dietz, and Stone had his sixth victory against three losses.

Joe Torre singled home Atlanta's first run in the opening inning and another scored on a double play in the second, offsetting Willie Mays' 19th homer in the fourth.

Dalrymple gave the boot to Pittsburgh after reliever Bruce Dal Canton opened the door by walking the bases loaded.

The Pirates almost got back in when Chris Cannizzaro tripled in a run in the last of the 15th, but Chris Short struck out Maury Wills for the final out.

Pittsburgh had tied the game with four runs in the ninth on four walks, a passed ball and Roberto Clemente's two-run single.

Benevenuti Seeks Bout With Fullmer

TORONTO (AP) — The manager of middleweight boxing champion Nino Benvenuti of Italy says he will go to New York later this week to arrange a title bout with Don Fullmer.

The New York State Athletic Commission ordered Benvenuti Monday to sign for a title defense against Fullmer or another "suitable opponent" by Sept. 29 or face suspension or possible loss of his crown.

"Fullmer? That's the first I've heard of this," said Bruno Amaduzzi, Benvenuti's manager. "But we'll fight Fullmer. I don't have any date in mind, but I would like to hold the fight in Madison Square Garden."

Edwin Dooley, chairman of the New York commission, said Fullmer, of West Jordan, Utah, had sent a $2,000 forfeit check and a challenge to the commission. Dooley said the notice and a copy of Fullmer's letter were sent to Benvenuti in Bologna, Italy.

The champion's six months of grace to defend the crown he won from Emile Griffith expired Sept. 4.

Chalk up one more strike for Minnesota's G-Whiz Kid . . . and put the rest on Louis Tiant's side of the tally sheet.

Tiant struck out 16 Minnesota batters Monday night and breezed to his 20th victory of the season as the Cleveland Indians trimmed the Twins 6-1.

One of the Twins' five hits off the husky right-hander was a home run by Graig Nettles . . . the rookie outielder's fifth in four games.

Tiant, who has lost nine, became the fifth 20-game winner in the majors and climbed within five strikeouts of teammate Sam McDowell's season high of 253.

Nettles, ninth Minnesota player to hit homers in four consecutive games, matched ex-Twin Jimmie Hall's club record of five in that span.

The American League's top three sluggers also homered. Frank Howard, the major league leader, slammed No. 40 in Washington's 6-2 victory over Baltimore; Boston's Ken Harrelson cracked No. 34 in a 6-4 10-inning nod over Oakland and Detroit's Willie Horton hit No. 33 as the League leaders pounded California 6-0 behind Mickey Lolich's two-hitter.

Tiant, who had won only one game . . . and completed none . . . since Aug. 10, stymied the Twins after Nettles' first inning homer. He struck out the side three times and fanned 14 through the seventh before tapering off.

The 27-year-old Cuban ace is Cleveland's first 20-game winner since 1962, when Dick Donovan made the charmed circle. Detroit's Denny McLain, Baltimore's Dave McNally, St. Louis' Bob Bibson and San Francisco's Juan Marichal also have won 20 or more this year.

Howard helped the lowly Senators drop second-place Baltimore eight games off the pace with a bases-empty homer in the third after Ken McMullen's three-run first-inning shot shook up loser Gene Brabender.

Rookie Gary Holman added a two-run pinch single in the seventh as Washington snapped a five-game losing streak.

Harrelson and Reggie Smith tagged 10th-inning homers off Oakland reliever Diego Segui after helping the Red Sox send the game into overtime. Both singled and scored on Russ Gibson's eighth-inning double, tying it 4-4.

Lolich, 14-9, limited the Angels to a third-inning single by Aurelio Rodriguez and an eighth-inning double by Tom Satriano as Detroit reduced its pennant magic number to 10.

Horton hit a two-run homer in the first inning and Mickey Stanley and Al Kaline smacked successive solo shots in the third, chasing California starter Dennis Bennett.

Tracy Smith Qualifies For Olympic 10,000 Run

By RON RAPOPORT

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — Altitude means hardly a thing when you're running—even if you're running for half an hour—says Tracy Smith. It's not likely he'll ever convince Billy Mills.

Smith, a slender 23-year-old Army Pfc, had things all his own way Monday when he handily won the 10,000-meter run at the U.S. Olympic track and field trials and won a trip to Mexico City next month.

The second and third finishers —Van Nelson and Tom Laris—also earned berths on the team, but Mills, the top U.S. star of the Olympics four years ago, was denied another trip when he finished a lackluster and painful fourth.

In addition, another top hopeful for a gold medal in a distance race, Gerry Lindgren, missed in his bid to make the team in the 10,000 and will have to settle for a crack at a 5,000-meter berth. And it's farm from a cinch that he'll make it.

Running at high altitude—the Echo Summit ski resort near here is 7,377 feet above sea level, 28-feet higher than Mexico City—is nothing new to Smith. He has trained for two years at his parents' fishing lodge in Southern California, running each day at altitudes between 8,400 and 9,200 feet.

"It gave me a big psychological lift," said Smith, who is 5-foot-11 and weighs 158 pounds. "I had a lot more left."

Smith, who finished in 30:00.4 a less than brilliant time, said that when Mills dropped out of contention near the end of the race, he thought about settling for third.

"But people expected me to win," he said, so he passed Laris with one-half lap to go and sprinted home the winner. Smith said he will try to earn a berth in the 5,000 and double at Mexico.

The 5,000 now represents Lindgren's last hope and he first must get past the trials on Wednesday—which he can do by running 14:45 or better—and then come in among the first three in the finals on Friday.

Lindgren, who was fifth, had little to say except "I didn't have the feeling."

Mills had previously tried to qualify for the team in the Marathon, but was kept out by a painful side injury and he said it cropped up again, bothering him along with the altitude.

The rest of the day's activities was given over to two rounds of races in 100-meter dash that eliminated nobody because all 11 runners bettered the 10.4 standard set by the U.S. Olympic Committee. The reason for the extra races was so there would be exactly as many as in the Mexico Games.

The real fun in the dash comes today when the semifinals and finals will be held.

Shot putters, 400-meter intermediate hurdlers and 800-meter runners also went through the preliminary motions, with few being eliminated, because as Jim Ryun, who finished fourth in his 800 heat said, "We were just trying to make it into the next race."

Cunningham Sets Potter Pass Record

As far as can be determined, Dan Cunningham set an East Liverpool single game record for most yards passing by an individual against Cleveland West Friday.

Cunningham hit 10 of 17 for 289 yards as the Potters won 36-6. The previous individual single game high is believed to be the 268 amassed by Clair Williams against Martins Ferry on Oct. 24, 1951.

Earl Diddle and Cunningham combined for 13 completions and 329 yards against Dayton Dunbar in a 40-6 win last season, but Diddle had only 264 yards of the total. He did have 11 completions which may be a school record.

Col. Gardner Dies After Boat Crash

DETROIT (AP) — The thunderboats obey the man who holds the steering wheel-but the river, with its treacherous holes, obeys no one.

Col. Warner Gardner, an ex-Air Force fighter pilot from Bay City, Mich., became the Detroit River's second victim in three years Monday, and its third in seven years. He died of body-crushing injuries suffered 24 hours earlier when his streaking hydroplane, Eagle Electric, disintegrated during the final heat of the Gold Cup race. He was going at upwards of 130 miles per hour.

Driver Billy Schumacher of Seattle had been tied with Gardner on the American Powerboat Association circuit at three victories apiece before the race. He took Miss Bardahl to victory in the final heat 45 minutes after the accident.

"You put whatever happened out of your head," said Schumacher. "You've got to concentrate on what you have to do."

Gardner, 52, was pulled from the water minutes after his boat made a 360-degree roll, then flipped and shattered.

A helicopter plucked him from the water moments later and took him to a hospital. Suffering from extensive head and internal injuries, he died 24 hours later following surgery.

Houston Rally Falls Short, Kansas City Wins 26-21

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference, which includes most schools in the East, breaks down the football teams in their area into three groupings.

The winners of the three groupings, at the end of the season, receive the Lambert Trophy, the Lambert Cup and the Lambert Bowl. Nationwide, college football teams are classified as major and minor, with the Football Writers Association of America doing the job. A team is considered to be major if more than half its opponents are major. East Carolina is a team that has come up from the minor to the major ranks in the last few years.

There has been some agitation to divide all the country's football teams into three groupings. It is argued that players from leagues like the Mid-American Conference or the Southern Conference or the Ivy League, all classed major, should not be rated with players from conference like the Big 10, Southeastern Conference or Southwestern Conference. Likewise, it is argued that small schools like Amherst, West Chester or Fairmont St., all of which play good football, should not have to compete with bigger schools like San Diego State and Southern Illinois, which are still classed minor.

The ECAC divisions are on a smaller scale, as their top division includes some pretty weak teams, like Rhode Island; and Amherst is in the second division.

The ECAC teams have recruited few players from Columbiana County, with Dick Keller, a junior defensive back from Columbiana at Delaware, the only one coming to light this season.

Columbia has Midland's Tony Ciccone, a junior tackle, and Ham McGregor of Youngstown. Buffalo U. has Bob Kovey of Youngstown and Pat Patterson of Ambridge, Colgate has Bob Bisceglia of Austintown, Princeton has Dave Miller and James Tkacik of Beaver Falls, Rutgers has Gary Fisher of Toronto and Syracuse has Mike Chlebeck of Louisville and Paul Paolisso of Weirton.

Bucknell has Rich Caputo of Beaver Falls, Lafayette has Dennis Laich of Monaca, Lehigh has Charles Lieb of Beaver, Kings Point has Don Hanni of Youngstown, Lycoming has Bill DeHass of Beaver and Art Washington of Quaker Valley and Susquehanna has Joe Dambrocia of New Castle.

RUMOR HAS IT that the Indians will acquire Mike Hershberger and Dick Green of Oakland in a three-cornered deal that would send Duke Simms to the Red Sox and George Scott of Boston to Oakland. Hershberger, an excellent outfielder who usually hits for a high average, would fit into the speedy Indian cast, while Green, a good infielder who has had some good seasons with the stick, also would help, especially if Larry Brown goes in the expansion draft, another rumor.

PURDUE IS the narrow choice over Southern Cal to win the collegiate footballs championship this fall, according to an AP poll. Notre Dame ranks third. Penn State is picked eighth, Ohio State 11th. Ohio U. also received some votes.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Don Herron, out most of last season due to an injury, is set at a tackle position on the Kenyon grid team. Herron, a 6-0, 210 sophomore, played enough last year to get a letter. He was used at guard in 1967.

ONE OF THREE veteran running backs on the Ashland grid squad is Jim Parker of East Palestine. The Eagles went unbeaten in 1967. A starting cornerback on the defensive platoon is Paul Baucom of Alliance.

Pro Extra-Point Play Stirs Controversy

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Pro Football's Press Point Experiment has had its run—and proved its point.

There no longer is any doubt that it is easier to kick a conversion than add on a point-after-touchdown by passing or running from the two-yard line.

And by proving that point, the experiment has opened the door to a small controversy in which players, coaches and owners are beginning to line up with for or against the rule, basically along similar lines.

Those in favor of the rule feel it adds excitment to the game and is a device that will eliminate ties. Those opposed to the rule feel it adds danger to an already dangerous profession and that it cheapens the touchdown.

The rule was adopted by the American and National football leagues for use in interleague exhibition games and abolished the traditional conversion kick, making it mandatory that teams either pass or run from the two-yard line to get their extra point.

The point was simple: The conversion kick was becoming too automatic, with AFL and NFL kickers succeeding about 98 per cent of the time, and consequently a dull play.

With the Pressure Point in use during the 23 exhibition games, there were 97 extra-point attempts by running or passing, 55 successful and 42 that failed—or 56.6 per cent made.

Breaking that down further: Of the 97 attempts, 62 were by passing and 35 by running, with the average for success just about the same. Of the passing attempts, 35 were successful, 27 failed—for 56 5 per cent. Of the running attempts, 20 were successful, 15 failed—for 57.1 per cent.

And that's where it all stands now. For the regular season, all experiments are off, with the AFL and NFL using their existing rules.

But there's little doubt that this experiment will get more laboratory time in the future. That's as certain as the conversion kick is automatic.

Jim Taylor To Retire From Saints

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jim Taylor hangs up No. 31 for good today. The Associated Press has learned that he plans to announce his retirement from pro football.

A 10 a.m., CDT, news conference was scheduled to the general offices of the New Orleans Saints for Taylor to make his announcement.

He'll be 33 in 10 more days. Behind Taylor are 10 years of glory and records in the National Football League.

Taylor, however, is not stepping out willingly. He insisted to the last that he's every bit as quick, every bit as fast as he was in the 1960 through 1965 seasons, each of which saw him rush for more than 1,000 yards —a record.

After a talk with Saints' owner John W. Mecom Jr. and General Manager Vic Schwenk on Monday, Taylor bowed to the inevitable.

Stenerud's FGs Prove Decisive

HOUSTON (AP) — Jan Stenerud kicked four field goals and the Kansas City Chiefs won their American Football League opener from the Oilers Monday night.

The victory was achieved, however, only after the Chiefs halted a fourth-quarter Houston uprising, led by quarterback Pete Beathard.

The Chiefs won 26-21 but saw Beathard cut a 19-point Houston deficit with two touchdown passes while missing two others.

Stenerud booted fourth period field goals of 33, 26 and 32 yards to contribute to Kansas City's 26-7 lead.

Houston, held to only 29 yards rushing the first two quarters, caught fire with 11 minutes left in the game. Beathard passed on practically every down, connecting with Sid Blanks, Ode Burrell and Mac Haik.

Beathard completed 23 of 48 passes for 412 yards. The Oilers gained only 55 yards on the ground.

The Chiefs gained 204 rushing with Mike Garrett picking up 53 yards in eight attempts. Len Dawson completed 10 of 18 passes for 73 yards.

National Football League teams, meanwhile, completed the job of trimming their rosters to the 40 players allowed when the season opens this weekend.

Most prominent among those cut was defensive back Ross Fichtner, signed as a free agent by New Orleans after being dropped by Cleveland in the wake of a racial incident.

Fichtner, who is white, was a starting safetyman for the Browns until they dropped him and guard John Wooten. The moves stemmed from a golf tournament arranged by Fichtner to which the Browns' Negro players were not invited. Wooten is now with Washington.

Paul Flately, the NFL's rookie of the year in 1963 when he caught 51 passes for Minnesota, was among four players released by the Vikings. The Green Bay Packers placed Ben Wilson, leading rusher in the Super Bowl, on the injured waiver list.

Dodgers Whip Cards

Pirates Get 4 In Ninth, Lose To Phils 8-7 In 15th

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

George Stone welcomed cousin Cecil Upshaw with open arms and Upshaw turned out to be the perfect relative. But not everyone has such relations.

Larry Jaster, for example, usually has a smashing time with his Los Angeles Dodger cousins, but when he put out his arms to them Monday night, they kicked him out of his own house.

Everyone was barely seated in Busch Memorial Stadium when the normally quiet Dodgers drove Jaster out with eight runs in the second inning, and went on to wipe out the St. Louis Cardinals 10-1.

It was only their second victory in nine decisions against Jaster, who shut them out a record five straight times in 1966.

But for Stone and Upshaw . . . well, they had as good a time as they did last Monday when Upshaw came in and saved a victory for Stone and the Atlanta Braves.

This time, the Braves beat San Francisco 2-1 as Upshaw rescued Stone by putting out two unwelcome hitters in the ninth inning.

Elsehwere in the National League, Clay Dalrymple's two-run single sent Pittsburgh away mad as Philadelphia topped the Pirates 8-7 in 15 innings.

Houston was rained out of a twi-light doubleheader at Cincinnati in the only other games scheduled. The Astros led 3-0 after four innings when the rains came.

Rookie Bill Sudakis, who wasn't around when Jaster was having his laughs with the Dodgers, was the rudest Dodger, turning the game into a rout after Jaster was gone. He climaxed the big noise in the second with the first grand slam homer of his career, off reliever Dick Hughes.

With Jaster still around, Paul Popovich had singled home two runs and Wes Parker doubled for two more.

Taking advantage of all this was Don Sutton, who cut down the Cardinals on six hits to run his record to 8-14. Jaster, who was 2-0 against the Dodgers this season, fell to 9-12.

The victory was the sixth in seven starts for Los Angeles and helped them past the idle New York Mets and out of the league cellar. The loss, on the other hand, was not all that bad for St. Louis, which still lowered its magic number for clinching the pennant to six as the second place Giants lost.

The rest of the day's activities was given over to two rounds of races in 100-meter dash that eliminated nobody because all 11 runners bettered the 10.4 standard set by the U.S. Olympic Committee. The reason for the extra races was so there would be exactly as many as in the Mexico Games.

The real fun in the dash comes today when the semifinals and finals will be held.

Shot putters, 400-meter intermediate hurdlers and 800-meter runners also went through the preliminary motions, with few being eliminated, because as Jim Ryun, who finished fourth in his 800 heat said, "We were just trying to make it into the next race."

Cunningham Sets Potter Pass Record

As far as can be determined, Dan Cunningham set an East Liverpool single game record for most yards passing by an individual against Cleveland West Friday.

Cunningham hit 10 of 17 for 289 yards as the Potters won 36-6. The previous individual single game high is believed to be the 268 amassed by Clair Williams against Martins Ferry on Oct. 24, 1951.

Earl Diddle and Cunningham combined for 13 completions and 329 yards against Dayton Dunbar in a 40-6 win last season, but Diddle had only 264 yards of the total. He did have 11 completions which may be a school record.

Col. Gardner Dies After Boat Crash

DETROIT (AP) — The thunderboats obey the man who holds the steering wheel but the river, with its treacherous holes, obeys no one.

Col. Warner Gardner, an ex-Air Force fighter pilot from Bay City, Mich., became the Detroit River's second victim in three years Monday, and its third in seven years. He died of body-crushing injuries suffered 24 hours earlier when his streaking hydroplane, Eagle Electric, disintegrated during the final heat of the Gold Cup race. He was going at upwards of 130 miles per hour.

Driver Billy Schumacher of Seattle had been tied with Gardner on the American Powerboat Association circuit at three victories apiece before the race. He took Miss Bardahl to victory in the final heat 45 minutes after the accident.

"You put whatever happened out of your head," said Schumacher. "You've got to concentrate on what you have to do."

Gardner, 52, was pulled from the water minutes after his boat made a 360-degree roll, then flipped and shattered.

A helicopter plucked him from the water moments later and took him to a hospital. Suffering from extensive head and internal injuries, he died 24 hours later following surgery.

Ashe Beats Okker In 5 Sets

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Ashe Jr., is the new titan of international tennis, but he's still not happy.

He has, he says, two more outstanding goals. He wants to help the United States get back the Davis Cup from Australia. And he wants to find his proper place in the seething black power struggle.

"I won't be satisfied until we get back the Davis Cup," the 25-year-old Army lieutenant from Richmond, Va., said today, still receiving congratulations for his stirring 14-12, 5-7, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3 victory over young Tom Okker of The Netherlands for the men's singles crown in the U.S. Open Championships.

The skinny Negro not only extended his winning streak of matches to 26—dating back to last July—but he added the open to his national amateur crown won two weeks ago at Brookline, Mass., and scored a double slam that may not be duplicated for years.

He automatically became a strong candidate for No. 1 world ranking among both amateurs and professionals.

After hitting the final stroke that made his champion of a star-spangled field that included such stars as Rod Laver, Tony Roche, Pancho Gonzales and Ken Rosewall, Ashe immediately subordinated his own interests to his future goals.

"While I've been winning here, the Australians have been running, jumping and hitting two-on-one," he said, referring to a favorite tactic of Aussie Capt. Harry Hopman in putting two men against one in practice. "They're getting ready for us—we've got to get back that cup."

Ashe and the man he had to beat in the semifinals, Clark Graebner, head the team that will invade Adelaide, Australia, at Christmas time for the Davis Cup challenge round—granting the Yanks get by their last hurdle, the interzone final.

"I think we're sure to make it and we should win the cup," said Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., the Davis Cup captain. "Ashe was the best player in the world this week. Graebner played great tennis. Our doubles teams have been outstanding. All odds, for once, are on our side."

The Aussies, their strength bled by pro raids, will try to defend with Bill Bowrey and Ray Ruffles, two outsiders who did not compete here. The United States next must play the winner of the series involving India, Japan and West Germany.

The United States has one of its doubles teams, Stan Smith and Bobby Lutz of Pasadena, Calif., already in the finals of the U.S. Open and another, Graebner and Charlie Pasarell, leading Ashe and Spain's Andres Gimeno 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 12-12. The unifished doubles are scheduled this morning.

The women's doubles were won by amateurs margaret Court Smith ot Australia and Maria Bueno of Brazil, who upset top-seeded pros Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco 4-6, 9-7, 8-6.

Arthur, a quiet, mild-mannered youngster, frail of frame, attended UCLA on scholarship, won the national collegiate title and championships on clay, hard courts and grass and became America's top Davis Cup ace.

But he never felt—because of his color—that he was ever really accepted.

"I am more at ease in Europe than in this country," he said. "I am treated better everywhere than here."

He said that now he has won world recognition for his tennis, he feels an obligation to help his race in their current black power structure.

Joe Gordon Named KC Royals Manager

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Joe Gordon's first job as manager of the Kansas City Royals will be intensive study of scouting reports aimed at the Oct. 15 expansion draft, which will furnish the players he will have in 1969.

Unlike some other expansion managers in the past, Gordon won't be starting with nothing. The Royals have about 70 players under contract at Corning, N.Y., Dubuque, Iowa, and High-point-Thomasville, N.C.

Fred Haney had only a matter of days between the granting of the California Angels franchise at St. Louis in December, 1960, and selection of players which formed the nucleus of baseball's most successful expansion club. One of Haney's assistants, Cedric Tallis, is now executive vice president of the Royals.

"There will be a lot of guessing because quite a few players will be available," Gordon said. "But we'll be ready. Cedric, Charley Metro and Lou Gorman have done a great job setting things up. I know our scouts have done a terrific job in the past few months and I'm going to take a lot of time studying their reports on the available players."

Ewing Kauffman, owner of the Royals, has spent more than $600,000 getting the jump on baseball's other expansion clubs and he said he is happy with the progress of his organization.

The Royals will pay $175,000 per player for the 30 players they will select from the 10 American League 40-man rosters.

Gordon asked for a one-year contract "to prove what I can do." His salary was estimated at $35,000. He will select three or four coaches later.

Lima Stops Ticket Sales To Students

By The Associated Press

Lima and Dayton high schools acted Monday to avert trouble at future home football games.

Police arrested 34 juveniles at Lima after rioting and window - smashing which followed last Friday's game at Lima Senior High School, and Saturday evening Lawrence Jackson, 21, was shot and wounded during the Dayton Roth - Dayton Dunbar game.

Lima Senior officials said Monday that new ticket sale procedures were being established. In the future, no tickets will be sold at elementary and junior high schools.

Only adults will be able to buy stadium tickets.

A school spokesman said the new system was introduced at the request of Lima city authorities.

Mayor Christian Morris additionally imposed a 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew for all persons under 18 in Lima next weekend.

Dayton's school athletic board of control voted Monday to eliminate all high school football doubleheaders.

The board said Friday games would now begin at 3 p. m. and 7 p. m., and Saturday games at 2 p. m. and 7 p. m.

Athletic director Willard H. Marquardt suggested the timings in order to separate arriving and departing crowds at stadiums.

According to Sports Illustrated, Pitt ranks 11th among all-time major college football powers. The Panthers have posted a 402-258-34 record in 78 years of competition.

Head, Palmer Named WVU Cage Aides

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — West Virginia Athletic Director Robert N. (Red) Brown announced yesterday the addition of former WVU stars Dave Palmer and Carl Head to the Mountaineers basketball staff.

Palmer, who's basketball career was greatly limited by a knee injury midway through the 1966 season, will work as a graduate assistant. Palmer was a defensive stalwart for coach Bucky Waters' teams of '66 and '67. One of his greatest moments came during the 1966 campaign when he was partly responsible for holding North Carolina's great Bob Lewis to only 12 points as WVU upset the Tar Heels 102-97.

Palmer is no stranger to the coaching ranks. Last season he filled in for freshman coach Chuck Windsor who was hospitalized with a back injury. "Dave did an outstanding job under a very difficult situation," comments coach Waters. "This year he also will assist with the recruiting and academic programs."

Head joins the staff fresh from a productive basketball tour of Europe. He was a mainstay of the WVU squad in 1967 which captured the Southern Conference tournament crown. During that campaign he averaged 10 rebounds and better than 20 points per game.

Nick Mileti Buys Arena In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I can remember when the Arena had full houses for hockey and basketball games.

"That's the way I remember it, and that's the way I think it can be again," said 37-year-old Nick J. Mileti Monday after announcing purchase of the Cleveland Arena and the Cleveland Barons hockey club.

Mileli, an attorney, heads a group which is paying $510,000 for the Barons. The deal was closed Sunday with Paul Bright, who with his family owns about two-thirds of the hockey club's stock.

The purchase price for the Arena, owned by a separate group was announced at $1.3 million. Other costs will bring the total cost of the Arena and .the club to nearly 2 million.

Transfer of ownership of the club must be approved by the American Hockey League Board which meets Thursday in New York.

Mileti, a graduate of Bowling Green State University, said things "are happening" in Cleveland, "and I think things will happen at the Arena."

One happening, he guaranteed will be a basketball game between Houston University, one of the top-ranked basketball power last year, and Bowling Green in 1970.

This will be part of his plan to intensify college activity at the Arena. Bowling Green plays Niagara there this year, and Ohio State meets Cornell.

Dave Benner Wins Canfield Feature Race

Dave Benner of Austintown won the 75-lap season late model championship at Canfield Speedway Saturday night.

The fastest qualifier, Benner started on the pole and led all the way. He lapped the 20-car field with the exception of Tom Jarrett of Austintown and Lou Gentile of Hubbard, who ran 2nd and 3rd, respectively. Bill Forney of Boardman was 4th and has appeared (unofficially) to have won his 7th Canfield late model point title. Benner also won Canfield's 50-lap midseason race earlier in the season.

Taking the lead on the 7th lap after starting 12th, Bill Larson of Youngstown won the 20-lap stock division finale.

Revolutionary Action Not Seen By U.S. Negroes

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. Olympic Committee does not expect any revolutionary action by Negro athletes at the Olympic Games in Mexico City next month.

The committee met Sunday and selected Los Angeles over San Francisco as the U.S. city to officially bid for the 1976 Games before the International Olympic Committee when it meets in Amsterdam in May.

The committee then followed with a brief discussion on the possibility of Negro athletes wearing black armbands as a display of protest or refusing to take ascent to the victory stand in acknowledgements of triumphs.

Bob Chetwynd Wins Field Day Trophy

Bob Chetwynd won the Field Day trophy when the East Liverpool Post Office Golf League had its field day at the Highland Golf Course Sunday.

Chetwynd had a net 74. Guest Winner Dick Murray also had a net 74. Ed Truitt of Youngstown had second low guest net. The local league hosted a number of out of town guests.

I know that I'm still missing you.

Ashe Beats Okker In 5 Sets

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Ashe Jr., is the new titan of international tennis, but he's still not happy.

He has, he says, two more outstanding goals. He wants to help the United States get back the Davis Cup from Australia. And he wants to find his proper place in the seething black power struggle.

"I won't be satisfied until we get back the Davis Cup," the 25-year-old Army lieutenant from Richmond, Va., said today, still receiving congratulations for his stirring 14-12, 5-7, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3 victory over young Tom Okker of The Netherlands for the men's singles crown in the U.S. Open Championships.

The skinny Negro not only extended his winning streak of matches to 26—dating back to last July—but he added the open to his national amateur crown won two weeks ago at Brookline, Mass., and scored a double slam that may not be duplicated for years.

He automatically became a strong candidate for No. 1 world ranking among both amateurs and professionals.

After hitting the final stroke that made his champion of a star-spangled field that included such stars as Rod Laver, Tony Roche, Pancho Gonzales and Ken Rosewall, Ashe immediately subordinated his own interests to his future goals.

"While I've been winning here, the Australians have been running, jumping and hitting two-on-one," he said, referring to a favorite tactic of Aussie Capt. Harry Hopman in putting two men against one in practice. "They're getting ready for us—we've got to get back that cup."

Ashe and the man he had to beat in the semifinals, Clark Graebner, head the team that will invade Adelaide, Australia, at Christmas time for the Davis Cup challenge round—granting the Yanks get by their last hurdle, the interzone final.

"I think we're sure to make it and we should win the cup," said Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., the Davis Cup captain. "Ashe was the best player in the world this week. Graebner played great tennis. Our doubles teams have been outstanding. All odds, for once, are on our side."

The Aussies, their strength bled by pro raids, will try to defend with Bill Bowrey and Ray Ruffles, two outsiders who did not compete here. The United States next must play the winner of the series involving India, Japan and West Germany.

The United States has one of its doubles teams, Stan Smith and Bobby Lutz of Pasadena, Calif., already in the finals of the U.S. Open and another, Graebner and Charlie Pasarell, leading Ashe and Spain's Andres Gimeno 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 12-12. The unifished doubles are scheduled this morning.

The women's doubles were won by amateurs margaret Court Smith ot Australia and Maria Bueno of Brazil, who upset top-seeded pros Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., and Rosemary Casals of San Francisco 4-6, 9-7, 8-6.

Arthur, a quiet, mild-mannered youngster, frail of frame, attended UCLA on scholarship, won the national collegiate title and championships on clay, hard courts and grass and became America's top Davis Cup ace.

But he never felt—because of his color—that he was ever really accepted.

"I am more at ease in Europe than in this country," he said. "I am treated better everywhere than here."

He said that now he has won world recognition for his tennis, he feels an obligation to help his race in their current black power structure.

Joe Gordon Named KC Royals Manager

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Joe Gordon's first job as manager of the Kansas City Royals will be intensive study of scouting reports aimed at the Oct. 15 expansion draft, which will furnish the players he will have in 1969.

Unlike some other expansion managers in the past, Gordon won't be starting with nothing. The Royals have about 70 players under contract at Corning, N.Y., Dubuque, Iowa, and High-point-Thomasville, N.C.

Fred Haney had only a matter of days between the granting of the California Angels franchise at St. Louis in December, 1960, and selection of players which formed the nucleus of baseball's most successful expansion club. One of Haney's assistants, Cedric Tallis, is now executive vice president of the Royals.

"There will be a lot of guessing because quite a few players will be available," Gordon said. "But we'll be ready. Cedric, Charley Metro and Lou Gorman have done a great job setting things up. I know our scouts have done a terrific job in the past few months and I'm going to take a lot of time studying their reports on the available players."

Ewing Kauffman, owner of the Royals, has spent more than $600,000 getting the jump on baseball's other expansion clubs and he said he is happy with the progress of his organization.

The Royals will pay $175,000 per player for the 30 players they will select from the 10 American League 40-man rosters.

Gordon asked for a one-year contract "to prove what I can do." His salary was estimated at $35,000. He will select three or four coaches later.

Lima Stops Ticket Sales To Students

By The Associated Press

Lima and Dayton high schools acted Monday to avert trouble at future home football games.

Police arrested 34 juveniles at Lima after rioting and window - smashing which followed last Friday's game at Lima Senior High School, and Saturday evening Lawrence Jackson, 21, was shot and wounded during the Dayton Roth - Dayton Dunbar game.

Lima Senior officials said Monday that new ticket sale procedures were being established. In the future, no tickets will be sold at elementary and junior high schools.

Only adults will be able to buy stadium tickets.

A school spokesman said the new system was introduced at the request of Lima city authorities.

Mayor Christian Morris additionally imposed a 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. curfew for all persons under 18 in Lima next weekend.

Dayton's school athletic board of control voted Monday to eliminate all high school football doubleheaders.

The board said Friday games would now begin at 3 p. m. and 7 p. m., and Saturday games at 2 p. m. and 7 p. m.

Athletic director Willard H. Marquardt suggested the timings in order to separate arriving and departing crowds at stadiums.

According to Sports Illustrated, Pitt ranks 11th among all-time major college football powers. The Panthers have posted a 402-258-34 record in 78 years of competition.

Nick Mileti Buys Arena In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "I can remember when the Arena had full houses for hockey and basketball games.

"That's the way I remember it, and that's the way I think it can be again," said 37-year-old Nick J. Mileti Monday after announcing purchase of the Cleveland Arena and the Cleveland Barons hockey club.

Mileli, an attorney, heads a group which is paying $510,000 for the Barons. The deal was closed Sunday with Paul Bright, who with his family owns about two-thirds of the hockey club's stock.

The purchase price for the Arena, owned by a separate group was announced at $1.3 million. Other costs will bring the total cost of the Arena and the club to nearly 2 million.

Transfer of ownership of the club must be approved by the American Hockey League Board which meets Thursday in New York.

Mileti, a graduate of Bowling Green State University, said things "are happening" in Cleveland, "and I think things will happen at the Arena."

One happening, he guaranteed will be a basketball game between Houston University, one of the top-ranked basketball power last year, and Bowling Green in 1970.

This will be part of his plan to intensify college activity at the Arena. Bowling Green plays Niagara there this year, and Ohio State meets Cornell.

Head, Palmer Named WVU Cage Aides

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — West Virginia Athletic Director Robert N. (Red) Brown announced yesterday the addition of former WVU stars Dave Palmer and Carl Head to the Mountaineers basketball staff.

Palmer, who's basketball career was greatly limited by a knee injury midway through the 1966 season, will work as a graduate assistant. Palmer was a defensive stalwart for coach Bucky Waters' teams of '66 and '67. One of his greatest moments came during the 1966 campaign when he was partly responsible for holding North Carolina's great Bob Lewis to only 12 points as WVU upset the Tar Heels 102-97.

Palmer is no stranger to the coaching ranks. Last season he filled in for freshman coach Chuck Windsor who was hospitalized with a back injury. "Dave did an outstanding job under a very difficult situation," comments coach Waters. "This year he also will assist with the recruiting and academic programs."

Head joins the staff fresh from a productive basketball tour of Europe. He was a mainstay of the WVU squad in 1967 which captured the Southern Conference tournament crown. During that campaign he averaged 10 rebounds and better than 20 points per game.

Dave Benner Wins Canfield Feature Race

Dave Benner of Austintown won the 75-lap season late model championship at Canfield Speedway Saturday night.

The fastest qualifier, Benner started on the pole and led all the way. He lapped the 20-car field with the exception of Tom Jarrett of Austintown and Lou Gentile of Hubbard, who ran 2nd and 3rd, respectively. Bill Forney of Boardman was 4th and has appeared (unofficially) to have won his 7th Canfield late model point title. Benner also won Canfield's 50-lap midseason race earlier in the season.

Taking the lead on the 7th lap after starting 12th, Bill Larson of Youngstown won the 20-lap stock division finale.

Revolutionary Action Not Seen By U.S. Negroes

CHICAGO (AP) — The U.S. Olympic Committee does not expect any revolutionary action by Negro athletes at the Olympic Games in Mexico City next month.

The committee met Sunday and selected Los Angeles over San Francisco as the U.S. city to officially bid for the 1976 Games before the International Olympic Committee when it meets in Amsterdam in May.

The committee then followed with a brief discussion on the possibility of Negro athletes wearing black armbands as a display of protest or refusing to take ascent to the victory stand in acknowledgements of triumphs.

Bob Chetwynd Wins Field Day Trophy

Bob Chetwynd won the Field Day trophy when the East Liverpool Post Office Golf League had its field day at the Highland Golf Course Sunday.

Chetwynd had a net 74. Guest Winner Dick Murray also had a net 74. Ed Truitt of Youngstown had second low guest net. The local league hosted a number of out of town guests.

Sets National Marks

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — Geoffrey Ferreira, Trinidad's lone swimmer for the Olympics, established two national records Sunday on the final day of a three-day swimming meet.

Ferreira won the 400-yard freestyle for 15 and over in 4:18.6. His other record came in the 200-yard freestyle, his 1:56.8 bettering his own mark by one fifth of a second.

2 IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of ED GREEN:

I spent all of my days in searching
Not knowing what I want to find
I wonder the night and in this flight
Trying to gain piece of mind
The loneliness seems ever present
I try to find something to do.
But there is no escape from being alone
I know that I'm still missing you.

I MISS YOU.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 10, the 254th day of 1968. There are 112 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1813, an American naval force under Capt. Oliver H. Perry defeated the British in the Battle of Lake Erie in the War of 1812.

On this date:

In 1775, 5,000 Cadians were banished from Nova Scotia.

Austria-Hungary was assassinated by an anarchist in Geneva.

In 1907, the British colony of New Zealand became a dominion.

In 1939, Canada declared war against Germany.

Ten years ago — The U.S. Supreme Court was considering a proposal by the Little Rock, Ark. school board to postpone school integration.

Five years ago — Negroes entered white public schools in the Alabama cities of Birmingham, Tuskegee and Mobile after the state's National Guard was put under federal control.

One year ago — The people of Gibralter voted to retain their link with Britain rather than return to Spanish sovereignity.

Junior Editors Quiz on CONTACT LENSES

QUESTION: How do contact lenses work?

* * * *

Answer: Many people have eyes which do not bring the light rays coming through to a sharp image on the back of the eye, which is necessary in order to see clearly. Eyeglasses correct this defect. By using just the right lenses, the light rays can be bent so they focus as clearly on the back of the eye as if there had been no trouble. But some persons consider eyeglasses somewhat of a nuisance, being breakable and liable to fog up in rainy weather. To overcome these objections, a German optician invented a small lens which could be worn directly on the eye. Made at first of glass, these contact lenses are now constructed of plastic, a less breakable material. Contact lenses are almost invisible. The eyelids, moving down over them, keep them from frosting, and the tiny lens protects the eye from dust, rain and wind. They are very useful to athletes who could not wear regular glasses, to people who act on the stage, and to many others who don't want to change their appearance.

(William Miller of Akron, O., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
